Selected List

CURRENT BOOKS AND PAMPHLETS

(Items Published in 1958, 1959, and 1960)

PACIFIC SCHOOL OF RELIGION

Added to the Collection of

(New York Copy) THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY

Between January 1, 1961 and June 30, 1961

---

Selected List Series No. 17

Missionary Research Library
3041 Broadway
New York 27, New York
1961

REF
f
Z
7817
N420s
1961:1

70891

f
Z
7817
N420s
1961:1
Ref.

f
AC N
N E
1961:1
Ref.

F O R E W O R D

The Selected List of Current Books and Pamphlets is published twice a year by the Missionary Research Library. The present issue contains accessions between January 1 and June 30, 1961. With but few exceptions only titles of works published since the beginning of 1958 are listed. The more important pamphlets are given a place, and a few selected government documents are included. Periodicals and reports of organizations are not included.

The special fields and interests of the Missionary Research Library determine the choice of books: the history, principles and methods of Christian missions; the rise and development of new churches, and other aspects of world-wide Christianity; the contemporary status of non-Christian religions; studies of areas, countries, peoples and cultures; anthropology and ethnology; international affairs and world peace. We would appreciate suggestions of significant books in these categories which have been omitted in our selection.

The Library of the Union Theological Seminary, adjacent to the Missionary Research Library, acquires many other books in the field or religions and these works are available to readers at the Missionary Research Library.

Books in this Selected List may be borrowed through inter-library loan, or directly if the facilities of inter-library loan are not available. In either case, the usual rules of inter-library loan apply. We regret that MRL materials cannot be sent overseas on loan.

The Missionary Research Library does not act as agent for purchasing books. Orders should be sent to the publishers or through book agencies. The Friendship Press, 475 Riverside Drive, New York 27, is agent in the United States for Edinburgh House and World Dominion Press. United Nations publications may be obtained from the International Documents Service of the Columbia University Press in New York City. The addresses of other publishers may be obtained by consulting the Cumulative Book Index (C.B.I.) or any book agency. In the case of foreign publications the price is given in the currency of the country of publication whenever this information is readily available.

The staff of the Missionary Research Library cooperates in the selection of books for the Library and in the preparation of book annotations. The following persons have been especially helpful in the preparation of this issue of the Selected List: Dr. Frank W. Price, Mrs. Laura Person, Miss Marjorie Griffis, Mrs. Alice Wong, Mr. James W. Bergland, Mr. Ralph M. Moore, and Mr. Jaymes P. Morgan.

September, 1961

Herbert C. Jackson
Director

MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY
3041 Broadway
New York 27, New York
1961

Price: Fifty Cents

C O N T E N T S

I. HISTORY
- A. History of Missions ..... 1
- B. History of Missionary Societies ..... 1
- C. Church History ..... 1
- D. Ecumenical Movement; Church Union and Cooperation ..... 3
- E. Roman Catholic Missions ..... 4

II. BIOGRAPHY
- A. Missionaries ..... 5
- B. National Christians ..... 8
- C. General ..... 8

III. THEORY AND PRINCIPLES OF MISSIONS; THEOLOGY OF MISSIONS ..... 9

IV. MISSIONARY METHODS
- A. Evangelism and Church Work; Communication of the Gospel ..... 10
- B. Christian Education ..... 10
- C. Christian Literature and Literacy Education ..... 11
- D. Audio-Visual Communications ..... 11
- E. Medical Missions ..... 11
- F. Rural and Agricultural Missions ..... 11
- G. General Description of Missionary Activities ..... 11
- H. Administration and Promotion of Missions: Training of Missionary Personnel ..... 11
- I. Other Methods and Problems ..... 11

V. WORKS OF REFERENCE
- A. Missions ..... 11
- B. Yearbooks and Directories ..... 12
- C. Bibliographies and General ..... 12

VI. AREAS AND COUNTRIES: (1) GENERAL (2) MISSIONS, CHURCHES
- A. North America ..... 13
- B. The Caribbean Islands and the Guianas ..... 14
- C. Latin America ..... 14
- D. Europe ..... 16
- E. Africa (South of the Sahara) ..... 16
- F. Near East, Middle East, and North Africa ..... 22
- G. Central Asia ..... 24
- H. Southern Asia ..... 24
- I. South East Asia ..... 25
- J. East Asia ..... 27
- K. Pacific Islands ..... 30
- L. Australia and New Zealand ..... 30
- M. General ..... 30

VII. CHRISTIANITY AND NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS; OTHER IDEOLOGIES
- A. Religions of Primitive Peoples ..... 30
- B. The Great Non-Christian Religions ..... 31
- C. Judaism ..... 33
- D. Communism ..... 33
- E. General and Other Religions ..... 34

CONTENTS

I. HISTORY

A. History of Missions ..... 1
B. History of Missionary Societies ..... 1
C. Church History ..... 2
D. Ecumenical Movement; Church Union and Cooperation ..... 3
E. Roman Catholic Missions ..... 4

II. BIOGRAPHY

A. Missionaries ..... 5
B. Sectional Christians ..... 6
C. General ..... 6

III. THEORY AND PRINCIPLES OF MISSIONS; THEOLOGY OF MISSIONS ..... 9

IV. MISSIONARY METHODS

A. Evangelism and Church Work; Communication of the Gospel ..... 10
B. Christian Education ..... 10
C. Christian Literature and Literacy Promotion ..... 11
D. Audio-Visual Communications ..... 11
E. Medical Missions ..... 11
F. Rural and Agricultural Missions ..... 11
G. General Description of Missionary Activities ..... 11
H. Administration and Promotion of Missions; Training of Missionary Personnel ..... 11
I. Other Methods and Problems ..... 11

V. WORKS OF REFERENCE

A. Missions ..... 11
B. Yearbooks and Directories ..... 12
C. Bibliographies and General ..... 12

VI. AREAS AND COUNTRIES: (1) GENERAL (2) MISSIONS, CHURCHES

A. North America ..... 13
B. The Caribbean Islands and the Guianas ..... 14
C. Latin America ..... 14
D. Europe ..... 16
E. Africa (South of the Sahara) ..... 16
F. Near East, Middle East, and North Africa ..... 22
G. Central Asia ..... 23
H. Southern Asia ..... 24
I. South East Asia ..... 25
J. East Asia ..... 27
K. Pacific Islands ..... 30
L. Australia and New Zealand ..... 30
M. General ..... 30

VII. CHRISTIANITY AND NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS; OTHER IDEOLOGIES

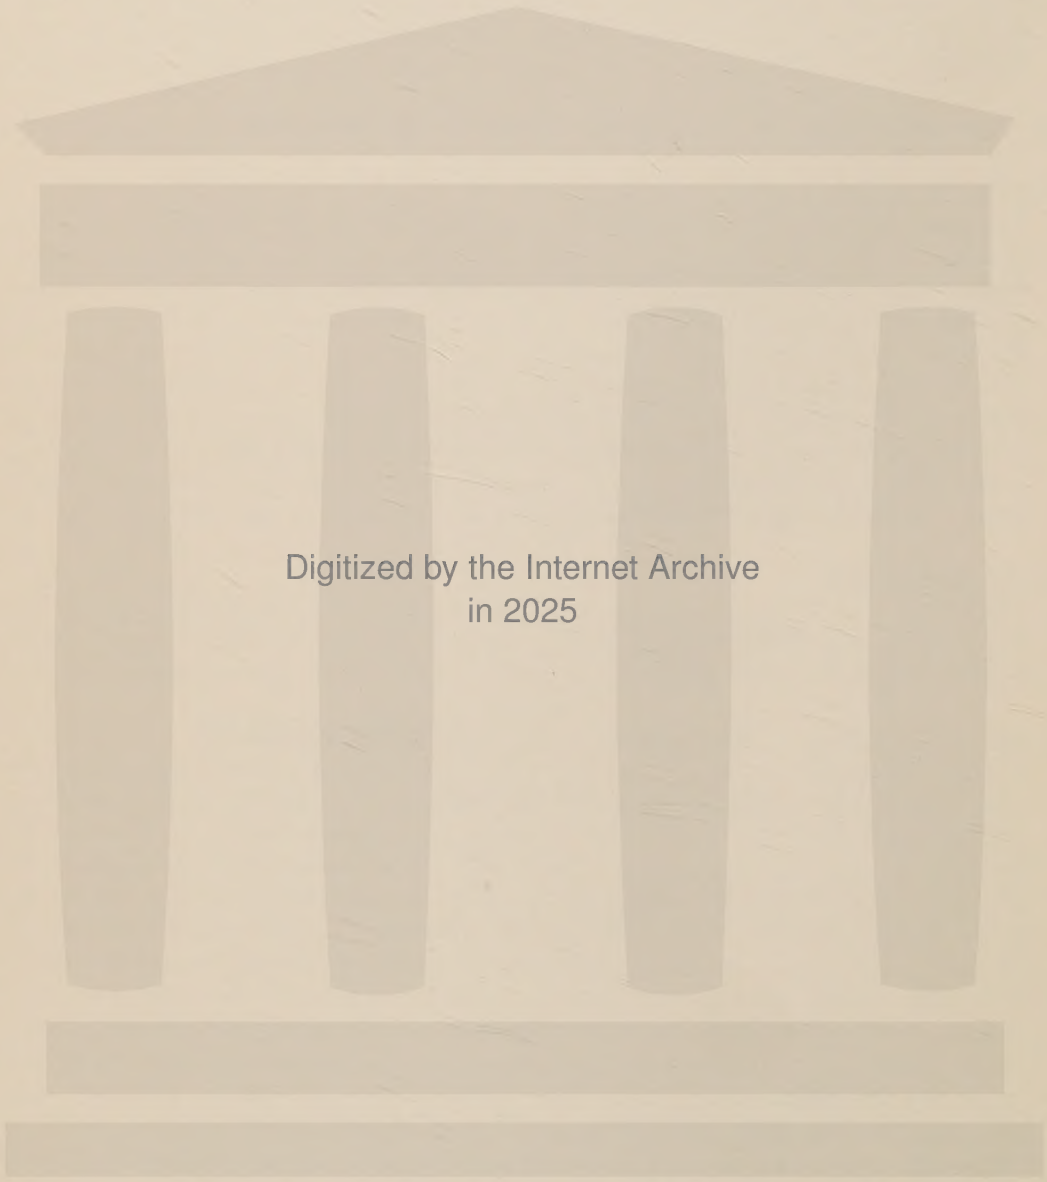
A. Religions of Primitive Peoples ..... 30
B. The Great Non-Christian Religions ..... 31
C. Judaism ..... 33
D. Communism ..... 33
E. General and Other Religions ..... 34

VIII. SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SCIENCE ..... 35

IX. ANTHROPOLOGY AND RELATED SUBJECTS ..... 40

X. THEOLOGICAL, WORSHIP AND DEVOTIONAL ..... 42

XI. PUBLICATIONS OF THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY..... 44



Digitized by the Internet Archive
in 2025

https://archive.org/details/international-bulletin-of-mission-research_1961_17

I. HISTORY

A. HISTORY OF MISSIONS

1. Spector, Ivar.
An Introduction to Russian History and Culture. 3rd. ed. Princeton, N.J.: D. Van Nostrand, 1961. 506 p. $8.50 Eleven centuries of Russian history and culture, outlined in an erudite and detailed, yet engrossing analysis, by a teacher of Russian history and civilization at the University of Washington. Includes useful bibliography and a text of the Constitution of the USSR.

B. HISTORY OF MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

2. Carey, William.
An Enquiry into the Obligations of Christians To Use Means for the Conversion of the Heathens. (New facsimile edition). London: Carey Kingsgate Press, 1961. 87 p. 10/6 Introduction by Ernest Payne, and reprint of Carey's famous missionary paper (1786).

3. Foster, John.
To all Nations; Christian Expansion from 1700 to Today. London: Lutterworth Press, 1960. 86 p. (World Christian Books, Second Series, 35) 2/6 A popular, condensed story of the missionary movement in the past 250 years. The author is Professor of Ecclesiastical History in the University of Glasgow.

4. Latourette, Kenneth Scott.
The Nineteenth Century Outside Europe: The Americas, the Pacific, Asia and Africa. N.Y.: Harper, 1961. 527 p. (Christianity in a Revolutionary Age; a History of Christianity in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries, Vol. III.) $7.50 Third volume in a massive historical survey, by the world's most eminent missionary scholar. Of particular significance to libraries of missions are the chapters on Latin America, Asian countries, Africa, the Pacific Islands, the Middle East and North Africa, and chapter XXV, "The Foreshadowing of Global Cooperation Among Protestants."

5. Pollock, J. C.
Earth's Remotest End. N.Y.: Macmillan, 1961. 320 p. $5.95 A remarkable 20th century "Acts of the Apostles" in Asia, by a well-known British journalist. Fascinating description of missions and churches in fifteen countries, from Pakistan eastward to Indonesia. Skillful narration and keen observation, conservative evangelical viewpoint. On the whole, fair, but marred by some harsh judgments and lingering western condescension.

C. CHURCH HISTORY

6. Cattan, Louise A., and Schmitz, Helen C.
One Mark of Greatness; American Baptist Missions. Philadelphia: Judson Press, 1961. 174 p. $1.50 The "mark of greatness" is the "consistent and unconditional ministry to the needs of men." A worthy addition to denominational missionary histories: the splendid outreach of the American Baptists overseas and in the Americas from 1812 to the present day. Informative and challenging.

7. Craig, Stuart.
South-East Asia. London: London Missionary Society, 1960. 64 p. (L.M.S. Information Books, 2.) 2/6 Thumbnail sketch of the London Missionary Society history and present activities in Southeast Asia; new difficulties and opportunities that face the Church in China, Hong Kong, Malaya, and Singapore.

8. Derby, Marian, and Ellis, James E.
Latin American Lands in Focus. N.Y.: Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, 1961 (paperback). 152 p. n.p. Written from the denominational point of view to give readers an understanding of Methodist work in lands to the south - Cuba, Mexico, Costa Rica, Panama, Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, Chile, Peru, Bolivia. The material is well presented.

9. Dunn, David, and others.
A History of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. Philadelphia: Christian Education Press, 1961. 369 p. $5.95 This excellent history, covering the Reformed Church in the U.S. and the Evangelical Synod of North America, before and after their union in 1929, includes also the story of their home and foreign missionary work. Now the E. and R. Church has become (1957) part of the United Church of Christ.

10. Gehman, Richard.
Let My Heart Be Broken...with the things that break the heart of God. N.Y.: McGraw-Hill, 1960. 245 p. $4.95 Fast-moving account of the work of World Vision, Inc., and the life of its founder, Dr. Bob Pierce; Christian love in action on a grand scale.

11. Goerner, H. Cornell.
Hands Across the Sea. Nashville: Convention Press, 1961. 116 p. $0.85 The Christian Church, including one million Baptists, in Europe today; Europe as a mission field; history of Baptist work on the continent; special Southern Baptist concerns. A fine adult study book, useful to all denominations, by a secretary of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board.

12. Harlow, R. E., and Smart, John.
Who Is My Neighbor? Assembly Missionaries in Latin America. N.Y.: The Fields, Inc., 1960. 71 p. $0.50 Missionary preaching and service of 287 "Assembly workers" of Christian Missions in Many Lands, located in sixteen countries of South and Central America and the Caribbean area.

13. Jordan, Artishia Wilkerson.
The African Methodist Episcopal Church in Africa. N.Y.: African Methodist Episcopal Church, 1960. 154 p. n.p. The African M.E. Church is represented today in twenty African, South American and Caribbean countries. Information is given here on each country of Africa and a report of the missionary outreach of the A.M.E. Church of the U.S. on that continent, by the wife of Bishop F.D. Jordan, Head of the Division of Missions.

14. Lamson, Byron S.
Venture! The Frontiers of Free Methodism. Winona Lake, Ind: Light and Life Press, 1960. 287 p. $3.00 The expansion of Free Methodism around the world. The story of an evangelical, dedicated and also socially-minded denomination in its vigorous missionary outreach.

15. MacKenzie, Kenneth M.
The Robe and the Sword; the Methodist Church and the Rise of American Imperialism. Washington, D.C.: Public Affairs Press, 1961. 128 p. $3.25 Original and somewhat disturbing research on the support which Methodist churches in America gave to American expansion and "manifest destiny" between 1865 and 1900. The results of research in other denominational histories would probably show similar trends . The author is son of a former missionary to India.

16. Pannabecker, S. F., ed.
The Christian Mission of the General Conference Mennonite Church. Newton, Kansas: Faith and Life Press, 1961. 80 p. $1.00 Organized in 1860 and at work today in ten countries with over 150 missionaries, this home and foreign missionary board recognizes changing conditions and is making wise plans for the future of its vital missionary enterprise.

17. Ross, Philip J.
It Is Marvellous in Our Eyes: An Account of the Celebrations in Connection with the Centenary of the Niger Mission of the Church Missionary Society, 1957. London: Church Missionary Society, 1960. 86 p. 5/- A stirring chapter in the history of the Christian Church; full account of the centennial celebration program - meetings, sermons, addresses, etc. Excellent photographs.

18. Stevens, George H.
"Go, Tell My Brethren": A Short Popular History of Church Missions to Jews (1809- 1959). London: Olive Press, 1959. 114 p. 3/6 History of this Anglican missionary society in its various fields of Europe, the Near East, and North Africa, covering 150 years of service, with emphasis on notable personalities.

19. Wiking, Philippa and Birger.
Mitten in Afrika. (Translated from the Swedish by Catharina Andreson.) Bethel bei Bielefeld, Germany: Verlagshandlung der Anstalt Bethel, 1960. 204 p. DM 9.80 Mission work of the Swedish Church Mission, the Danish Missionary Council, and the Bethel Mission in Germany, in Hayaland on the equator in Central Africa.

20. Vicedom, G. F.
Church and People in New Guinea. London: Lutterworth Press, 1961. 79 p. (World Christian Books 38, Second Series). 2/6 The remarkable story of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of New Guinea, independent and self-supporting with nearly 200,000 baptized members. It shows the heroism of the foreign missionaries and native evangelists and the missionary spirit of the Church. The German author was formerly a missionary in New Guinea.

21. Zimmerman, Anna R.
Sixty Years, Liebenzell Mission. (Wuerttemberg, Germany: Liebenzeller Mission, 1960?) 135 p. n.p. The work of a wonderful faith mission, in China, Japan, and the islands of the Pacific, begun from Hamburg in 1899 and continued after 1939 also from the United States. Over forty missionaries are in active service. Illustrated.

D. ECUMENICAL MOVEMENT; CHURCH UNION AND COOPERATION

22. Agreed Statements: The CSI-Lutheran Conversations, 1948-1959. Madras (India); Christian Literature Society, 1960. 44 p. $.50 Continuing negotiations for union in South India. Introduction by J. R. Chandran.

23. Bayne, Stephen F., Jr, ed.
Ceylon, North India, Pakistan; a Study in Ecumenical Decision. London: SPCK, 1960. 249 p. 8/6 The "Plan of Church Union" in North India and Pakistan, and the "Scheme of Church Union in Ceylon," published in full in one volume. Seven Churches of widely different traditions intend to unite in the north: five Churches in the Church of Lanka (Ceylon).

24. Küng, Hans.
Konzil und Wiedervereinigung; Erneuerung als Ruf in die Einheit. Wien: Herder, 1960. 249 p. DM 12.80 A Roman Catholic discussion of the renewal of the Church in relation to the ecumenical Movement and Christian unity.

25. Teinonen, Seppo A.
Kirkkojen Yhteistyö ja Kansainvälinen Politiikka. Helsinki: The Finnish Society for Missionary Research, 1960. 149 p.(Finnish Society for Missionary Research Series, LXVIII) n.p. Finnish language, with an English summary, "The Cooperation of the Churches and International Politics." A brilliant study by a young Finnish theologian.

26. Teinonen, Seppo A.
Missio Politica Oecumenica; a Contribution to the Study of the Theology of Ecumenical Work in International Politics. Helsinki: The Finnish Society for Missionary Research, 1961. 86 p. (Finnish Society for Missionary Research Series, IV) FM 400 Sequel to the author's book on the cooperation of the churches and international politics; historical survey and theological bases; the need for further discussions.

27. World Council of Churches Commission on Faith and Order.
One Lord, One Baptism. London: SCM Press, 1960. 79 p. (Studies in Ministry and Worship. Faith and Order Commission Paper No. 29) 6/- Papers presented to the Faith and Order Commission of the World Council of Churches meeting at St. Andrews, Scotland, in 1960, on the Trinity, the Unity of the Church, Meaning of Baptism, etc.

E. ROMAN CATHOLIC MISSIONS

28. Aster, P. Gentilis, O.F.M. Cap.
Een Volk ontdekt Christus; de katholieke Missie onder de Bataks op Sumatra. Voorhout, Holland: Uitgeverij Foreholte, 1959. 223 p. History of the Roman Catholic Church among the Bataks of Sumatra, which now claims 100,000 members, fruit of Dutch Catholic missions.

29. Balez, E.
Vagabondage en Afrique Noire. Toulouse:"Edition Les Croix du Midi," 1959. 207 p. $2.50 Travels in Senegal, Ivory Coast, Upper Volta, Togo, Dahomey and Cameroun; impressions of the people and of the Catholic Church there. The preface is by the president of the Order of Charity.

30. Beckmann, Johannes.
Weltkirche und Weltreligionen; die Religiöse Lage der Menschheit. Freiburg: Herder-Bücherei, 1960. 196 p. (Herder-Bücherei, Bd. 81.) DM 2.20 Growth and present condition of Roman Catholic churches in non-Christian lands; a paperback survey of the religious situation in the world.

31. Catholic Students' Mission Crusade.
The Church at Work in the World; Selections for A Readings Course on the Theology, History, and Methods of the Mission Apostolate. Cincinnati: Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, 1961. 141 p. (CSMC Five-Hour Series) n.p. Designed to constitute a beginning course in missiology, this collection of writings by various Roman Catholic Missions experts attempts to prove that the Roman Church is essentially missionary, and that all members have a responsibility to share in that work.

32. De la Costa, H., S.J.
The Jesuits in the Philippines, 1581-1768. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 1961. 702 p. $12.50 The role of the Society of Jesus missionaries in the Philippines from the 16th through the 18th centuries, as evangelists, leaders, and colonizers. Thorough, sound research. The Jesuits were expelled in 1768 and returned in 1859. A second volume will bring the history up to date.

33. D'Elia, Pasquale M., S.J.
Galileo in China; Relations through the Roman College between Galileo and the Jesuit Scientist-Missionaries, (1610-1640). Transl. by Rufus Suter and Mathew Sciascia. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 1960. 115 p. $4.00 Lectures by Professor D'Elia, eminent sinologist at the Pontifical Gregorian University in Rome, on the service of Jesuit missionaries in the revision of the Chinese calendar, early 17th century, and translations of relevant documents. Distinguished research.

34. Folliet, Joseph.
World Catholicism Today. Transl. from the French by Edmond Bonin. Westminister, Md.: Newman, 1961. 214 p. ("Rencontres." No. 54) $3.25 A thinly veiled apologetic for contemporary world Catholicism, outlining its contribution and mission by an analysis of its many faces and roles. Written by the director of the Social Institute of the Facultés Catholiques de Lyon. Original title: Le Catholicisme mondial aujourd'hui.

35. Freitag, Anton.
Die Wege des Heils; Bildatlas zur Geschichte der Weltmission. Salzburg: Otto Müller Verlag, 1960. 208 p. DM 55. The highways of salvation; pictorial atlas of the history of the world mission. A major Roman Catholic historian of missions sets forth a remarkably sumptuous and comprehensive volume, comprising elaborate maps; carefully concise text; abundant and impressive pictures, usefully annotated; statistical and organizational tabulations of the contemporary Roman Catholic establishment in Asia, Africa, and other mission or quasi-mission areas.

36. Kittler, Glenn D.
The Maryknoll Fathers. Cleveland: World Publishing Co., 1961. 318 p. $5.00 The absorbing history of the first half-century of Maryknoll (Catholic Foreign Missionary Society of America), its venturesome pioneers and thousands of missionaries around the globe today. One chapter is devoted to each of the five decades.

37. Loor, Wilfrido.
Los Jesuitas en el Ecuador; Su Ingreso y Expulsion, 1850-1852. Quito: La Prensa Católica, 1959. 248 p. $2.00 The Jesuits in Ecuador, their entrance and thier expulsion (1850-1852). Research by a Roman Catholic scholar.

38. Millot, René-P.
Missions d'aujourd'hui. Paris: Librairie Arthème Fayard, 1960. 124 p. (Je sais - je crois: Encyclopédie du Catholique au XXème siècle. Neuvième Partie: Les Problèmes du Monde et de l'Église) $1.40 An unusually good, interpretive survey of Roman Catholic missionary history, theory, organization and activity since 1914, with emphasis on the changes and challenges of the present day. The "new wine" calls for new bottles. By a promising young Catholic historian.

39. Rocaries, André, S.J.
400 ans aux Indes. La Mission du Maduré. Paris: Librairie Arthème Fayard, 1960. 120 p. $5.95 Four-century history, from 1542 to the present time, of Roman Catholicism in the province of Madura, South India. Text and magnificent illustrations.

II. B I O G R A P H Y

A. MISSIONARIES

40. Achútegui, Pedro S. de, S.J., and Bernad, Miguel A., S.J.
Religious Revolution in the Philippines; the Life and Church of Gregorio Aglipay,

1860-1960. Vol I. Manila: Ateneo de Manila, 1960. 578 p. $10.50 The biography of Father Gregorio Aglipay (1860-1940) who in 1898 called for an independent Filipino Catholic Church and was excommunicated by Rome, through the tumultuous period that ensued until his death in 1940. The Jesuit authors try to be fair in their judgment upon Aglipay. A second volume will deal with the Independent Church from 1940 to the present.

41. Bradfield, Margaret, comp. and translator.
The Good Samaritan; the Life and Work of Freidrich von Bodelschwingh. London: Marshall, Morgan & Scott, 1961. 224 p. 15/- First English biography of "Father" Bodelschwingh, Director of Bethel-Bielefeld, hospital for epileptics and Deaconess Mother House from 1872-1910. Moving story of this Christian humanitarian, pioneer in methods of ministering to the mentally ill and handicapped.

42. Browne, Benjamin P.
Tales of Baptist Daring. Philadelphia: Judson Press, 1961. 175 p. $2.50 Interesting biographical sketches of eighteen famous Baptist personalities, beginning with Roger Williams, and including missionaries William Carey, Adoniram Judson, and John E. Clough.

43. Burke, Clara Heintz.
Doctor Hap. N.Y.: Coward-McCann, 1961. 319 p. $4.50 Mrs. Burke's thrilling and inspiring story of her physician-husband, Dr. Grafton "Hap" Burke (1877-1931), Episcopal missionary to the Arctic Circle Eskimos above Alaska, and incidentally of her own faith and courage.

44. Davis, M. P.
A Long Honeymoon Among Lepers, Outcastes and Aborigines. Cincinnati: By the author, 1960. 212 p. n.p. A scrapbook of persons and places in India under the impact of the Gospel, and a gripping account of almost forty years of service in India, by a missionary of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

45. Goodsell, Fred Field.
They Lived Their Faith; an Almanac of Faith, Hope and Love. Boston: American Board of Commissionars for Foreign Missions, 1961. 486 p. $5.50 Short stories and anecdotes for daily reading dealing with missionaries and Christian nationals in many lands who are or have been serving under the auspices of the American Board. Based upon 150 years of recorded history of the Board. A mine of information and inspiration.

46. Haitz, Linn.
Juju Gods of West Africa. Saint Louis: Concordia Publishing House, 1961. 113 p. $1.00 A business man turned missionary (Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod) tells in a simple but effective way about his experiences in West Africa among primitive tribes and in service to struggling young churches.

47. Hall, Gordon Langley.
Golden Boats from Burma. Philadelphia: Macrae Smith, 1961. 255 p. $3.75 Based on exhaustive research, a new biography of Ann Hazeltine Judson, wife of Adoniram Judson; written with literary skill and charm by a well-known young British novelist.

48. Howell, Beth Prim.
Lady on a Donkey. New York: E. P. Dutton, 1960. 224 p. $3.95 Biography of a Pentecostal woman missionary to Egypt and the inspiring story of how she has cared for hundreds of orphan children in Assiout.

49. Hume, Lotta Carswell.
Drama at the Doctor's Gate; the Story of Doctor Edward Hume of Yale-in-China. New Haven: Yale-in-China Association, 1961. 159 p. $3.50 Fascinating sketches of the life and work of the late Dr. Edward Hume, pioneer physician and Christian statesman, written by his wife. Lin Yutang says of it, "Inspiring reading that sums up half a century of work of a delightful human spirit...a heart-warming story."

50. Jany, André.
Jean Blin, missionnaire en Chine. Aperçu de la vie religieuse et politique de la Chine de la fin de l'Empire au Communisme (1911-1952). Paris: Mignard, 1960. 138 p. $3.25 Biography of a French Catholic missionary to China (1911-1952), finally expelled by the Communists. A story of wise and brave service and loving identification with the Chinese people.

51. Kuhn, Isobel.
By Searching. Philadelphia: China Inland Mission, 1960. 192 p. $2.95 Intensely personal autobiographical account of a young girl's search for God. By a veteran missionary to China and Thailand. Her depth of insight varies from time to time.

52. Moore, Raymond S.
China Doctor; the Life Story of Harry Willis Miller. N.Y.: Harper, 1961. 215 p. $3.95 The inspiring biography of Dr. Miller, Seventh-day Adventist medical missionary to China, who treated thousands of Chinese in sanataria and clinics, cured government officials as well as the poorest workers, popularized soy milk as a substitute for animal milk, and received the highest decoration of the National Government.

53. Österlin, Lars.
Thomanders Kyrkogärning. Stockholm: Svenska Kyrkans Diakonistyrelses Bokförlag, 1960. 477 p. (Samlingar och Studier till Svenska Kyrkans Historia, No. 37) n.p. Biography of Bishop Johan Henrik Thomanders (1798-1865) and his role as leader in the Church of Sweden: improvement of theological education, efforts for a reformed Church, and incorporation of evangelical movements within the State Church. The author is a young Swedish scholar. The book includes a 17-page summary in English.

54. Peggs, A. Deans, ed.
A Mission to the West India Islands; Dowson's Journal for 1810-17. Nassau, Bahamas: The Dean Peggs Research Fund, 1960. 118 p. 40/- An account of the birth and infancy of Methodism in the Bahamas as seen through the journal of William Dowson. The editor is the former Head Master of the Government High School, Bahamas.

55. Reid, T. Wemyss, comp. and ed.
A Man Like Bati: the Rev. Reginald Bartlett, O.B.E. London: Independent Press, 1960. 208 p. 8/6 Biography of an Englishman, Reginald Bartlett, (1878-1948) who became a missionary of the London Missionary Society to New Guinea and Samoa. Told largely through his own vivid letters. Illustrations.

56. Spottswood, Curran
Beyond Cotabato. Westwood, N.J.: Revell, 1961. 256 p. $3.50 The autobiography of a pilot-missionary and his family in their adventurous experiences of trying to bring the Gospel to the obscure outposts of the Philippine Islands.

57. Thorogood, Bernard.
Not Quite Paradise. London: London Missionary Society, 1960. 119 p. 5/- Experiences and reflection of a young LMS missionary, at work in the widely scattered Cook Islands and the churches there. Vivid, and strongly ecumenical.

58. Valtierra, Angel, S.J.
Peter Claver, Saint of the Slaves. London: Burns & Oates, 1960. 328 p. 30/- Exhaustive critical study of the life of the famous seventeenth-century Jesuit missionary to the slaves in Colombia, S.A., from a Roman Catholic perspective.

59. Villain, Maurice, S.M.
The Life and Work of Abbé Paul Couturier, Apostle of Unity. Haywards Heath, Sussex, England, Holy Cross Convent, 1959. 19 p. 1/6 A brief appreciation of a Roman Catholic protagonist of Christian unity. Translated from the French.

B. NATIONAL CHRISTIANS

60. Davey, Cyril J.
Kagawa of Japan. London: Epworth Press, 1960. 150 p. 12/6 A brief but gripping biography of Toyohiko Kagawa, the Japanese Christian Socialist and ardent pacifist. Significant for its contribution to our knowledge of Kagawa's life from 1939 until his death.

61. Juan, Ellen Li.
Intangible Inheritance; A Lyrical Memoir. N.Y.: Pageant Press, 1960. 100 p. $2.50 A biography of a Chinese peasant, Y. M. Lee, who entered the Christian ministry and became a missionary to his own people. The book recounts the insuperable odds in the form of hardship and superstition against which Pastor Lee labored in his attempt to proclaim the Gospel among the pagans. Written by his daughter.

62. Kiyoko, Takeda Cho
An Essay on Kagawa Toyohiko; the Place of Man in His Social Theory (article from Asian Cultural Study). Tokyo: International Christian University, 1960. unpaged 22 p. n.p. Brief and sympathetic attempt to interpret a portion of the social philosophy of Kagawa for the general reader.

63. Kuhn, Isobel.
Stones of Fire. Chicago: Moody Press, 1960. 224 p. $3.50 A tale of the spiritual pilgrimage of a young Lisu couple in south-west China. Inspirational literature for teenage reading.

64. McCorkle, Henry L.
The Quiet Crusaders. N.Y.: Friendship Press, 1961. 175 p. $2.95 Biographies of some twenty evangelical Christians in a dozen Latin American countries, written in animated style. By the former managing editor of Presbyterian Life, now editor of The Episcopalian.

65. Paw, Kalee.
The Way of God with Jungle Flower. Washington: Review and Herald Publ. Association, 1960. 191 p. $3.50 Moving autobiographical stories by a Christian convert in Burma, who became a missionary to Thailand through World War II, and later represented Burma in the Seventh-day Adventist General Conference in Cleveland, Ohio.

66. Rawson, Elsie Lewis.
Sunanda's Jewels. Washington: Review & Herald Publishing Association, 1960. 127 p. $3.00 True story of an Indian boy who was led into the Christian life by Seventh-day Adventist missionaries, and witnessed bravely to his own village. Dying of cholera, he left an indelible impression on his family and community.

III. THEORY AND PRINCIPLES OF MISSIONS; THEOLOGY OF MISSIONS

67. La Adaptación Misionera; Coleccion de Trabajos Presentados a la X y XI Semanas Intensivas de Orientación Misionera, Celebradas en Burgos Respectivamente del 6 al 13 de Agosto de 1957 y 1958. Burgos, Spain, Instituto Español de San Francisco Javier para Misiones Extranjeras, 1959. 479 p. Addresses by missionary bishops and priests on the adaptation or "accommodation" of Christian teaching and practice to the special characteristics of people in "mission lands," including one critical paper on "Protestant missions and missionary adaptation." "Heartily recommended to all who read Spanish for its valuable contribution to present-day discussions of the topics." (IRM book review, April 1960, pp. 228-230). Bibliographies and index.

68. Anderson, Gerald H., ed.
The Theology of the Christian Mission. N.Y.: McGraw-Hill Book Co., 1961. 341 p. $6.50 Essays by 25 scholars around the world, presenting many points of view. "A most exciting book, covering the subject more comprehensively and with deeper understanding than any recent volume with which I am acquainted." (Kenneth Scott Latourette). "An important and controversial volume, one likely to stir up as much discussion of world missionary objectives as the works of Hocking and Kraemer in previous decades." (Christianity Today)

69. Blackman, Cyril.
The Biblical Basis of the Church's Missionary Enterprise. London: London Missionary Society, 1961. 32 p. (Essays on Mission, 3.) 2/6 An interpretation of the theology of missions deeply rooted in the Scripture; the missionary witness of both the Old and the New Testament. A fresh and helpful approach.

70. Catarzi, Danilo, S.X.
Lineamenti di Dommatica Missionaria; Parte Generale. Parma, Italy: Istituto Saveriano Missioni Estere, 1958. 331 p. Lire 800. "Missionary dogmatics" - outlines of theology and missions, from the Roman Catholic viewpoint. Emphasis on the Church and the missionary vocation.

71. Ferré, Nels F. S.
The Atonement and Mission (The Christian Doctrine of Atonement in its Bearings on a Theology of Missions). London: London Missionary Society, 1960. 31 p. (Essays on Mission, 3.) 2/6 Profound and provocative essay on a theology of Christian mission for the "post-critical" Christian era, that would make central the creative and atoning love of God in human history.

72. Henry, A.-M., O.P.
Esquisse d'une théologie de la mission. Paris: Les Editions du Cerf, 1959. 247 p. $2.85 Outline of a theology of mission, reflecting the new thinking in this area by Roman Catholic scholars; emphasis on the witness of the Christian community; questions of missionary adaptation to national cultures: the "word" and the "mission."

73. Krüger, Erich.
Wesen und Aufgabe der Missionstheologie. Wuppertal-Barmen: Verlag der Rheinischen Missions-Gesellschaft, 1960. 52 p. DM 1.50. A thrilling attempt to uncover the essence and precise task of the Church on the basis of the New Testament, historically and critically considered.

74. Scopes, Wilfred.
The Fundamental Principle Then and Now: A Brief Study of the Role of the London Missionary Society in the Light of World Mission To-day. London: London

Missionary Society, 1960. 31 p. (Essays on Mission, 1.) 2/6 In 1796 the London Mission made a remarkable declaration of "The Fundamental Principle," - not to send forth a denominational system, but the "glorious Gospel of the Blessed Savior," and let the Christians overseas find a form of church government "agreeable to the Word of God." Dr. Scopes re-examines this principle in the light of "new forms of mission" today.

75. Smith, Eugene L.
God's Mission--and Ours. New York: Abingdon Press, 1961. 159 p. $3.25 A vibrant discussion of the Christian world mission - theological foundations, importance of missionary purpose and passion in the Church, relation of "older" and "younger" churches, ambiguities and opportunities in cultural encounters, and other lively issues. Rich in illustrations from experience and practical applications. The author is the able and magnetic General Secretary of the Methodist (U.S.A.) Division of World Missions.

IV. MISSIONARY METHODS

A. EVANGELISM & GENERAL CHURCH WORK; COMMUNICATION OF THE GOSPEL

76. Eastwood, C. Cyril.
Wanted on Voyage. London: Cargate Press, 1960. 87 p. 3/6 Simple, engrossing stories of evangelism in South India, by an English Methodist missionary.

77. Elliot, Elisabeth.
The Savage My Kinsman. N.Y.: Harper, 1961. 159 p. $5.95 Truly "out of this world" (the western world) is Elisabeth Elliot's gripping text about the evangelical missionaries who have penetrated into the Auca tribe region of Ecuador. Remarkable photographs. An extremely compassionate and moving story.

78. Thompson, Phyllis.
Faith by Hearing. Los Angeles: Gospel Recordings Inc., 1960. 63 p. (printed in Great Britain) How Gospel Recordings was started in faith by Joy Ridderhof, and how it grew until 2 million records have been sent out in 2,000 languages and dialects to carry the Christian message.

79. Wallis, Ethel Emily.
The Dayuma Story; Life Under Auca Spears. N.Y.: Harper, 1960. 288 p. $3.95 The gripping life-story of the first convert from among the Aucas of Ecuador, from savage pagan to effective Christian witness, related by a missionary linguist. Helpful glossary and maps, outstanding photographs.

80. Westphal, Barbara.
Ana Stahl of the Andes and Amazon. Mountain View, Calif.: Pacific Press Publishing Association, 1960. 127 p. $3.00 Ferdinand Stahl (1870-1950), born in Germany, and his wife Ana, born in Sweden, missionaries of the Seventh-day Adventist Church, did a remarkable work among the Andean and Amazon Indians. Their story is told with zest and humor.

B. CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

81. Fifty Years of Service: 1910-1960. Bangalore: United Theological College, 1960. 135 p. Rs. 3.50 Twelve significant and well-written papers, by Indian and western leaders, on various aspects of theological education in India. Published in connection with the Jubilee Celebrations of the United Theological College of Bangalore.

82. Hart Henry C.
Campus India; an Appraisal of American College Programs in India. (East Lansing, Mich.): Michigan State University Press, 1961. 217 p. $4.00 Critical study and evaluation of eight programs of American universities and colleges, and two church mission programs, at work in India. The mission institutions are Allahabad Agricultural Institute and Vellore Christian Medical College.

83. Morgan, Dewi, ed.
Teaching with a Difference; Ten Overseas Teachers Describe Their Various Jobs. London: Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, 1960. 76 p. 5/ Informative series of short sketches by members of the staffs of various Anglican mission schools and colleges, depicting their educational task.

84. Reynhout, Hubert, Jr.
The Bible School on the Mission Field. Barrington, Rhode Island: The Author, 1961. 72 p. $1.25 A brief analysis of the strengths and weaknesses of the Bible School on the mission field, with an attempt to develop a philosophy and model for the Bible School. By the Director of the Missionary Department at Barrington College.

C. CHRISTIAN LITERATURE AND LITERACY EDUCATION

D. AUDIO-VISUAL COMMUNICATIONS

E. MEDICAL MISSIONS

85. Müller, Samuel
Im Kampf um Leben und Tod. Vom Samariterdienst in Afrika. Stuttgart: Evang. Missionsverlag, 1960. 88 p. (Weltweite Reihe, 14.) DM 2.80 A traveller's impressions of medical missionary work in Africa. The author examines representative mission hospitals and outstations, generalizing on the situation and the methods used, and concludes that mission institutions will be necessary for some time to come, in spite of increasing work by national governments.

F. RURAL AND AGRICULTURAL MISSIONS

G. GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF MISSIONARY ACTIVITIES

H. ADMINISTRATION AND PROMOTION OF MISSIONS: TRAINING OF MISSIONARY PERSONNEL

I. OTHER METHODS AND PROBLEMS

86. Moreau, Jules Laurence.
Language and Religious Language; a Study in the Dynamics of Translation. Philadelphia: Westminster Press, 1961. 207 p. $4.50 The problem of language as an instrument in communication of the Gospel: the connecting bridge between religious ethos and the secular environment. A thoughtful and stimulating study of vital importance to missions and younger churches. The author is described as a "man of powerful intellect and encyclopedic mind."

V. W O R K S  O F  R E F E R E N C E

A. MISSIONS

87. Henry, David H., ed.
Missionary Handbook of Direct-Support Missionaries of the Christian Churches and Churches of Christ. Eugene, Ore.: Henry Printing Co., 1960. 128 p. n.p. Information about the five hundred North American missionaries supported directly by individual congregations of the "Churches of Christ" (formerly reported with Disciples of Christ) which have no central organization.

B. YEARBOOKS AND DIRECTORIES

88. Basic Facts and Figures. Paris: United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, 1960. 198 p. $3.00 Exceedingly useful handbook of facts regarding education, culture and mass communication in all countries. Includes data on all grades of schools, libraries and museums, book production, publications, films, radio and television.

89. Mead, Frank S.
Handbook of Denominations in the United States. Second revised edition. N.Y.: Abingdon Press, 1961. 272 p. $2.95 A concise and illuminating encyclopedia of all religious bodies in the United States. Valuable to students of missions for information on the denominational history and background of overseas missionary efforts.

C. BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND GENERAL

90. Chu, Clayton H.
American Missionaries in China; Books, Articles and Pamphlets Extracted from the Subject Catalogue of the Missionary Research Library. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 1960. (Research Aids for American Far Eastern Policy Studies, No. 2. K. C. Liu, General Editor) 3 vols., xxiv, 159; 160-339; 340-509 p. n.p. "By patiently combing through the subject catalogue of the MRL for materials concerning China only, Mr. Chu has produced a bibliography of some...6,500 titles of books, periodicals and pamphlets. This is certainly a body of material which students of China or of American-Chinese relations cannot neglect." Issued by the Committee on American Far Eastern Policy Studies, Department of History, Harvard University.

91. Ebisawa, Arimichi, compiler
Christianity in Japan; a Bibliography of Japanese and Chinese Sources. Part I: (1543-1858). Tokyo: Committee on Asian Cultural Studies, International Christian University, 1960. 171 p. $5.00 Carefully prepared and beautifully printed bibliography of 3,628 items, and list of important collections. The first volume deals largely with Roman Catholic missions; the Committee is working on bibliographies covering the later periods.

92. Gaskell, G. A.
Dictionary of All Scriptures and Myths. N.Y.: Julian Press, 1960. 844 p. $15.00 An attempt to explicate the symbols contained in all scriptures and myths, on the basis of the assumption that there is an esoteric, metaphorical language underlying all of them. The allegorical method in dictionary form. Many quotations from books on religion.

93. Hamer, Philip M., ed.
A Guide to Archives and Manuscripts in the United States. New Haven: Yale University Press, 1961. 775 p. $12.50 Information about the archival and manuscript holdings of some 1300 depositories in the 50 States of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone. The Missionary Research Library and other important missionary collections are included. Valuable reference book.

94. Library of Congress. Reference Dept. Gen. Reference and Bibliography Div.
World Communism; a Selected Annotated Bibliography. Washington: Library of Congress, 1961. 58 p. Free. A selected list of about 400 items, largely English materials written by specialists, which give insight into the workings of Communism. Some important books are omitted.

95. Platts, John T.
A Dictionary of Urdū, Classical Hindī, and English. London: Oxford, 1960. 1259 p. £ 6.6s. ($17.17) Reprint of a valuable dictionary first published in 1884.

96. Morris, Raymond P.
A Theological Book List. Naperville, Ill.: Allenson, 1960. 242 p. $6.00 A notable list of 5472 selected and classified book titles, prepared on behalf of the Theological Education Fund, for use by overseas theological seminaries in building their libraries. Covers the whole range of theological curriculum. Carefully compiled by the Librarian of Yale Divinity School. English and European languages included.

VI. AREAS AND COUNTRIES: (1) GENERAL; (2) MISSIONS, CHURCHES

A. NORTH AMERICA

97. Jones, Nard.
The Great Command; the Story of Marcus and Narcissa Whitman and the Oregon Country Pioneers. Boston, Toronto: Little, Brown, 1959. 398 p. $5.00 An authoritative and well-documented account of the Whitman missionary story, told for the general reader, by the Chief Editorial Writer of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

98. Landis, Benson Y.
Protestant Experience with United States Immigration, 1910-1960. N.Y.: Church World Service, 1961. 81 p. $1.25 Study paper prepared in the Bureau of Research and Survey of the National Council of Churches; digest and interpretation of available documents: Protestant response and participation; summary of important issues. Selected references. A valuable reference. Distributed by Church World Service.

99. Matson, Theodore E.
Edge of the Edge. N.Y.: Friendship Press, 1961. 165 p. $2.95 Frontiers for Christian churches in the United States and Canada; thoughtful and forceful discussion by a Lutheran leader in national missions. Adult study book prepared by the NCCC Commission on Missionary Education.

100. Parker, Mack.
The Amazing Red Man. San Antonio, Tex.: Naylor Co., 1960. 66 p. $1.95 Useful reference book on the North American Indian people and culture - list of tribes and famous chiefs, Indian contributions to civilization, present situation and needs.

101. A Program for Indian Citizens; a Summary Report. Albuquerque, N.M. Commission on the Rights, Liberties, and Responsibilities of the American Indian, established by The Fund for the Republic, 1961. 45 p. Free. Seven sets of recommendations, each preceded by an introduction, based on careful research, visits to Indian reservations, and interviews with prominent Indian citizens, aimed at improvement of the status and living conditions of the North American Indian.

102. Protestant Council of the City of New York. A Report on the Protestant Spanish Community in New York City. N.Y.: Department of Church Planning and Research of the Protestant Council of the City of New York, 1960. 138 p. (mimeographed) $1.00 Important study of 700,000 Spanish-speaking people in New York City, population trends, work of 25 Protestatnt church bodies among them. Tables, maps, bibliography.

B. THE CARIBBEAN ISLANDS AND THE GUIANAS

103. Ayearst, Morley.
The British West Indies; The Search for Self-Government. N.Y.: New York University Press, 1960. 258 p. $5.00 The first complete political study - an excellent one - of the new West Indies Federation and its thirteen island units, early historical background, and recent developments. The author is a professor of government at New York University who spent a year gathering material. Religious groups and indigenous cults are briefly mentioned.

104. Courlander, Harold.
The Drum and the Hoe; Life and Lore of the Haitian People. Berkeley and Los Angeles: University of California Press, 1960. 371 p. $10.00 A comprehensive study of the life and culture of the Haitian people. The book is written against the background of the primitive religious rites of the people. The death rites, various services, songs and music, and proverbs of Vodoun (religion of the people) comprise a large portion of the book. Illustrations, appendices, and bibliography.

105. Huberman, Leo, and Sweezy, Paul M.
Cuba, Anatomy of a Revolution. 2d ed. N.Y.: Monthly Review Press, 1961. 208 p. $3.50 Description and analysis of the social revolution in Cuba. The writers are enthusiastic about the reforms achieved and blind to any excesses and failures. "The United States," they say, "should keep hands off Cuba."

106. Lowenthal, David, ed.
The West Indies Federation; Perspectives on a New Nation. N.Y.: American Geographical Society, by Columbia University Press, 1961. 142 p. (American Geographical Society, Research Series, 23) $3.00 An opportune study of the independent West Indies Federation and its ten territories - history, social and political factors, problems, and prospects. Selected reading-list.

107. Mills, C. Wright.
Listen, Yankee; the Revolution in Cuba. N.Y.: McGraw-Hill, 1960. 192 p. $3.95 "The voice of the Cuban revolutionary," sympathetically interpreted by a professor of sociology at Columbia University, well known for his extreme views.

108. Weyl, Nathaniel.
Red Star Over Cuba; the Russian Assault on the Western Hemisphere. N.Y.: Devin-Adair, 1960. 222 p. $4.50 How Communism got its foothold in Cuba. The author relates the role which Fidel Castro played in various acts of violence since 1948, and attempts to show how he came to accept the Communist philosophy.

C. LATIN AMERICA

109. Adams, Richard N., et al.
Social Change in Latin America Today; its Implications for United States Policy. N.Y.: Harper, for the Council on Foreign Relations, 1960. 353 p. $5.00 Six North American anthropologists, specialists also in Latin America, analyze the powerful social forces, that are reshaping several key countries of that great continent, and set up some signposts for future U.S. policy. A significant book.

110. Alvarez Herrea, Félix Ma.
Las Misiones Protestantes en America. Lima, Peru: Ediciones Renovabis, 1959. 98 p. $0.90 A biased history and description of "the aggressive invasion" of Protestant missions in Latin America, by a professor in the Roman Catholic Pontifical University at Lima.

111. Barbieri, Sante Uberto.
Land of Eldorado. N.Y.: Friendship Press, 1961. 161 p. $2.95 Eldorado - "golden land" for the future Christian Church. Historical background, the forming of a new people. Indian and Negro populations, the encounter of Protestantism with Catholicism, the fruits of the Gospel - these and many other subjects are treated in an interesting way by the Bishop of the Methodist Church of Argentina. Study and discussion book on the 1961-1962 Latin-America theme.

112. Blum, Olive Holmes.
Exploring the New Latin America. N.Y.: Y.W.C.A., 1960. 61 p. $0.60 Study book about the seven countries where the Y.W.C.A. is at work. Annotated reading suggestions. Background and interpretation.

113. Dozer, Donald Marquand.
Are We Good Neighbors? Three Decades of Inter-American Relations, 1930-1960. Gainesville, Fla.: University of Florida Press, 1959. 456 p. $8.00 Extensive, heavily documented account of the relations between the United States and Latin America from the inception of the "Good Neighbor Policy" to the present. Excellent presentation of the changing Latin American perspective; excellent bibliography.

114. Eskelund, Karl.
Drums in Bahia; Travels in Brazil. London: Alvin Redman, 1960. 166 p. 25/- Fantastic changes and baffling contradictions among the multiracial people of a fast-growing nation. Another book of travel adventures by the famous Danish author and his Chinese wife.

115. Ferguson, J. Halcro.
Latin America; the Balance of Race Redressed. N.Y.: Oxford University Press, for The Institute of Race Relations, 1961. 101 p. $1.20 A study of the relatively good relations between races in Latin America and analysis of the reasons therefor; importance of Latin America's record for the rest of the world. By a British foreign officer and journalist.

116. Hoffman, Ronan, O.F.M., and Magner, James A., Msgr.
Latin America: Pattern for the 'Sixties.' Cincinnati: Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, U.S.A., 1961. (Five-Hour Series) 75 p. $.75 Reader for student groups, on the Roman Catholic Church in Latin America in relation to national and social problems.

117. McClelland, Alice J.
Mission to Mexico. Nashville, Tenn.: Board of World Missions, Presbyterian Church, U.S., 1960. 90 p. n.p. A cursory review of the missionary endeavors in Mexico on the part of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., as recounted by a veteran missionary to that country.

118. Perkins, Dexter.
The United States and Latin America. Baton Rouge, La.: Louisiana State University Press, 1961. 124 p. $3.00 A life-long specialist and writer on Inter-American affairs appraises U.S. political and economic relations with her southern neighbors, through history and at the present time, in relation to national security and world peace. Latin America looms large and will loom larger tomorrow.

119. Porter, Charles O., and Alexander, Robert J.
The Struggle for Democracy in Latin America. New York: Macmillan, 1961. 215 p. $4.50 The authors of this book critically view the sources which gave rise to the democratic way of life as well as the forces which oppose democracy in Latin America. Recent victories for democracy are recounted.

120. Verissimo, Erico.
Mexico. Tr. from the Portuguese by Linton Barrett. N.Y.: Orion Press, 1960. 341 p. $6.00 A journalistic and impressionistic account of the author's travels in Mexico including glimpses into the sources of Mexican civilization, the splendor of Mexican cities and villages, and the character and vocational pursuits of the Mexican people. Some interesting paragraphs on Aztec religion. Illustrations, bibliography and index.

121. Yoder, Howard W.
This Is Latin America. N.Y.: Friendship press, 1961. 34 p. $.85 An excellent introduction to Latin America - countries and peoples, social structures and modern changes, inter-American relations, the growth of Protestantism on the continent. Attractive illustrations. By the Executive Secretary of the Committee on Cooperation in Latin America.

D. EUROPE

E. AFRICA (SOUTH OF THE SAHARA)

122. Awolowo, Obafemi.
Awo: The Autobiography of Chief Obafemi Awolowo. Cambridge, Eng. : Cambridge Univ. Press, 1960. 315 p. $4.50 Chief Awolowo, premier of the Western Region of Nigeria and leader of the Action Group Party, has a Christian background. He tells the story of his struggle for education and rise to political power and gives his views on many subjects, against Pan-Africanism, and for a western alliance.

123. Belgian Congo. 2 vols. Brussels : Belgian Congo and Ruanda-Urundi Information and Public Relations Office, 1959-1960. 547 p., 187 p. n.p. Useful compendium of information about the former Belgian Congo before independence - physical structure, country and people, history, political and economic aspects, education and culture. One section (pp. 164-171) contains religious statistics. Vol. II.

124. Blake, W. T.
Central African Survey; Facts and Figures of Rhodesia and Nyasaland. London: Alvin Redman, 1961. 133 p. 18/- A clear sketch of the Central African Federation and its three constituent parts - history, government, economic conditions, public services, progress in racial relations, etc. Also, a guide to towns and hotels. By a well-known traveler and author.

125. Brookes, E. H.
"Things New and Old." The Presidential Address Delivered at the Annual General Meeting of the Council of the South African Institute of Race Relations in Hiddingh Hall, Cape Town, on January 19, 1961. Johannesburg: South African Institute of Race Relations, 1961. 15 p. 2/6 A striking address, welcoming change and looking into the future with hope. "I want to challenge the whole fundamental conception of apartheid."

126. Cameron, James.
The African Revolution. London: Thames and Hudson, 1961. 199 p. (The Great Revolutions) 18/- Revolutionary Africa, depicted in broad lines, country by country. Clear and useful text for reading or reference. The author is a well-known British journalist.

127. Carter, Gwendolen M.
Independence for Africa. N.Y.: Frederick A Praeger, 1960. 172 p. $4.50 A study of the political, social, and economic tensions involved in the African nations' drive for freedom. Maps and bibliography.

128. Clayton, Geoffrey Hare, Archbp.
Where We Stand; Archbishop Clayton's Charges, 1948-57, Chiefly Relating to Church and State in South Africa. N.Y.: Oxford University Press, 1960. 54 p. $.80 Seven strong addresses, given between 1949 and 1957, by Dr. Geoffrey H. Clayton, Archbishop of Capetown (d. March 6, 1957), to the Diocesan Synod, reflecting his strong opposition to the Government's discriminatory "Acts." Also, his letter for the Bishops of South Africa to the Prime Minister.

129. Conton, William.
The African. Boston: Little, Brown, 1960. 244 p. $4.00 A remarkable political novel, by a Ghanaian headmaster about Africa, reflecting the present struggles, tensions and hopes on the awakening continent; fictional, but certainly drawn from real experience. The author grew up in a ministerial family and was taught in early life by missionaries.

130. Drachoussoff, V.
L'Afrique décolonisée; essai sur le développement de l'Afrique Noire. Bruxelles: Académie Royale des Sciences d'Outre-Mer, 1960. 150 p. (plus photos) Fr. 175. Analysis of the problems of aid to underdeveloped countries of Africa, the balance needed between internal effort and external assistance; regional organizations; Eurafrica. Bibliography and illustrations.

131. The Economic Development of Tanganyika. Report of a Mission Organized by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development at the Request of the Governments of Tanganyika and the United Kingdom. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins Press, for the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, 1961. 548 p. $8.50 A comprehensive and competent survey of all phases of the economic situation in Tanganyika - land, natural resources, agriculture, cattle-ranching, irrigation, flood control, forestry, fisheries, industry and manufactures, transport, education, finance, taxation, plans and projects for economic development. Summary of recommendations.

132. Ehrenfels, U. R.
The Light Continent. London: Asia Publishing House, 1960. 192 p. 30/- An Austrian scholar, professor of anthropology in India, studies the matrilineal social systems and changing position of women in modern Africa, contradicting earlier anthropological theories. Many references, mostly critical, to Christian missions.

133. Eskelund, Karl.
While God Slept; Travels in Africa. London: Alvin Redman, 1961. 190 p. 25/- The popular Danish travel-writer visits the Congo, Rhodesias, Mozambique, South Africa, and Nigeria, and describes his experiences and impressions in an informal and sympathetic vein. Critical of missionaries. Illustrated.

134. Ezera, Kalu.
Constitutional Developments in Nigeria; an Analytical Study of Nigeria's Constitution-Making Developments and the Historical and Political Factors That Affected Constitutional Change. Cambridge, Eng.: University Press, 1960. 274 p. $5.50 An excellent pioneer study of Nigeria's constitutional history, from 1861 and the early legislative councils, through decades of political progress during and after World War II, to the various constitutions from 1946 to 1954, the constitutional conference of 1954, and the achievement of independence in 1960; prospects for the future.

135. Franck, Thomas M.
Race and Nationalism: The Struggle for Power in Rhodesia-Nyasaland. N.Y.: Fordham University Press, 1960. 369 p. $6.75 A penetrating analysis of the uneasy political and social situation in the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, with a blueprint for salvaging that situation, by a member of the Graduate School and the School of Law of New York University.

136. French Embassy. Press and Information Division.
Hour of Independence. New York: French Embassy. Press and Information Division, 1961. 11 pamphlets. Central African Republic, Republic of Chad, Republic of the Congo (Brazzaville), Republic of Dahomey, Gabon Republic, Republic of the Ivory Coast, Malagasy Republic, Islamic Republic of Mauritania, Republic of the Niger, Republic of Senegal, Republic of the Upper Volta. n.p.

137. George, Betty.
Education for Africans in Tanganyika; a Preliminary Survey. Washington: U.S. Dept. of Health, Education, and Welfare, 1960. 97 p. (Bulletin 1960, No. 19) $0.40 A thorough, informative study on the organization of education in Tanganyika, the current system, teacher training, education, statistics, financial costs, African views, educational plans and outlook.

138. Gray, Richard.
The Two Nations; Aspects of the Development of Race Relations in the Rhodesias and Nyasaland. London: Oxford University Press, 1960. 373 p. $6.75 Growth of the European community in Central Africa from a few thousand farmers in 1918 to a powerful, favored economic class in 1953, in increasing tension with the awakening and rebellious Africans; pressures for and against the "Federation." A lucid, historical analysis. Good bibliography and index. Well printed.

139. Grobler, J. H.
Africa's Destiny. Johannesburg: Book of the Month Club, 1958. 207 p. n.p. A Boer politician, uncompromising supporter of apartheid, argues for "separate constitutional development" as the only way to preserve "democracy" in Africa and avoid a violent race war.

140. Guthrie, Malcolm, ed.
African Language Studies I. London: School of Oriental and African Studies, Univ. of London, 1960. 192 p. (Collected Papers in Oriental and African Studies, No. 1) 42/- First number in a series of collected papers on African languages; highly technical articles such as "An introduction to Gender in Hausa."

141. Hennessy, M. N.
Congo; a Brief History and Appraisal. London: Pall Mall Press, 1961. 148 p. 12/6 A brief outline of the background and course of events in the "Congo situation," by one who served for many years as an educator and soldier in Africa.

142. Hodgkin, Thomas
Nigerian Perspectives; an Historical Anthology. London: Oxford University Press, 1960. 340 p. (West African History Series.) 30/- Writings about the ancestors of modern Nigerians from earliest times - especially since 1000 A.D.- to the present; narratives of geographers and travelers, tribal traditions, songs and stories. A wealth of source material; many references to Christianity. Well-indexed.

143. Hollingsworth, L. W.
The Asians of East Africa. London: Macmillan, 1960. 174 p. 8/6 There are 300,000 Asians from the sub-continent of India and Pakistan, living in Kenya, Tanganyika, Uganda, and Zanzibar, who have been traders, soldiers, railway-builders, etc. History of this group, their part in development of East Africa's economy, and the problems of multiracial communities.

144. Hooper, Charles.
Brief Authority. London: Collins, 1960. 384 p. 21/- A stark partrait of apartheid in the raw, as it engulfs the lives of individuals in the Transvaal, drawn in vivid detail by an Anglican missionary.

145. Horrell, Muriel, comp.
The "Pass Laws"; a Fact Paper. Johannesburg: South African Institute of Race Relations, 1960. 78 p. No. 7. 5/- Illuminating information on the controversial "pass laws" of South Africa - nature of the laws, cases of hardship, views for and against, recommendations for change.

146. Hutchinson, Alfred.
Road to Ghana. N.Y.: John Day, 1960. 190 p. $3.50 A penetrating look at apartheid in action, seen through the story of a South African Negro's flight from imprisonment.

147. Huxley, Elspeth.
A New Earth; an Experiment in Colonialism. London: Chatto & Windus, 1960. 288 p. 30/- What is happening in Kenya at the grass-root level, sympathetically described by a gifted observer and interpreter of changing Africa. Mrs. Huxley's book is the report of a three months' exploration.

148. Jahn, Janheinz.
Muntu; an Outline of the New African Culture. Transl. by Marjorie Grene. N.Y.: Grove Press, 1961. 267 p. $5.50 A living portrait of the new and freer African culture - arts, painting and sculpture, dancing, religious ceremonies - and the basic philosophic concepts; the conflict of western and African patterns. A distinguished book, by a German author.

149. Jahoda, Gustav.
White Man; a Study of the Attitudes of Africans to Europeans in Ghana before Independence. N.Y.: Oxford University Press, for The Institute of Race Relations, 1961. 144 p. $3.40 This book purports to investigate the psychological reactions of Africans (especially Ghanaians) toward Europeans. It analyzes the prevalent stereotypes which the uneducated African holds as well as the more sophisticated views of schoolboys and adults.

150. Jones, H. Wynn.
Africa in Perspective. London: Quadriga Press, 1960. 214 p. 25/- The story of Africa from pre-history through various historical periods to the turbulent present. A guide to study for the general reader, based on wide reading and much travel; written in an interesting style. The author is a British specialist on Africa.

151. Kimble, George H. T.
Tropical Africa. Vol. I: Land and Livelihood, Vol. 2: Society and Polity. N.Y.: Twentieth Century Fund, 1960. 603 p., 506 p. $15.00 A distinguished survey in two volumes of the territory between the Sahara and the Union of South Africa, arranged by topics rather than countries - population, economy, industry, political and social factors, health, etc. Comprehensive and scholarly work. Many striking photographs.

152. Kup, A. P.
A History of Sierra Leone, 1400-1787. Cambridge, Eng.: University Press, 1961. 211 p. 21/- First serious study of early Sierra Leone history, for four centuries after 1400, based on careful research. Especially significant in this year of Sierra Leone's new independence.

153. Legum, Colin.
Congo Disaster. Baltimore: Penguin Books, 1961. 174 p. $0.85 Historical background materials, and a vivid account of recent events, the internal power struggle and the role of the U.N. Helpful toward an understanding of the tangled situation.

154. Melady, Thomas Patrick.
Profiles of African Leaders. N.Y.: Macmillan, 1961. 186 p. $4.95 Brief, sympathetic biographies of nine important leaders in independent nations or movements of Africa, and short sketches of other leaders. Included are: Haile Selassie I, Nkrumah, Touré, Mboya, Nyerere, Tubman.

155. Mason, Philip.
Year of Decision; Rhodesia and Nyasaland in 1960. London and New York: Oxford University Press, 1960. 282 p. $3.40 An involved discussion of progress and disillusionment in the history of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, as a background for the 1960 Conference to review the Constitution of the Federation. Issued under the auspices of the Institute of Race Relations.

156. Merriam, Alan P.
Congo; Background of Conflict. Evanston, Ill.: Northwestern University Press, 1961. 368 p. (Northwestern University African Studies, 6.) $6.00 An opportune record and interpretation of events in the Congo before and since independence, showing an anthropologist's understanding of the peoples and tribes involved, and analyzing the problems facing the new state. Good index and Appendix of important documents.

157. Mitchison, Lois.
Nigeria: Newest Nation. N.Y.: Praeger, 1960. 122 p. $3.00 A realistic yet empathic and hopeful description of the new Nigeria and its people, by a British woman traveler and writer.

158. Moorehead, Alan.
The White Nile. N.Y.: Harper, 1960. 385 p. $5.95 A dramatic and captivating story of the discovery of the source of the Nile River and the opening up of central Africa; more specifically, a story of the missionaries, soldiers, diplomats, and merchants who made this discovery and exploration possible. The book covers 50 years (1850-1900) of most significant history. Maps and illustrations.

159. Muske, Irmgard.
Aus Johburg kommt keiner zurück; Erzählung aus Südafrika. Stuttgart: Evang. Missionsverlag, 1960. 217 p. DM 8.80 "From Johburg No One Returns." A moving novel, based on fact, about South African tensions today, marked by a note of Christian hope.

160. Nelson, Robert G.
Congo Crisis and Christian Mission. St. Louis, Mo.: Bethany Press, 1961. 112 p. $1.50 The best account yet published of recent events in the Congo as they affect the Christian missionary enterprise and African Church. Written by the Africa secretary of the UCMS, especially for his own Disciples denomination, but useful to all groups. Excellent photographs by the author.

161. Paton, Alan.
Tales from a Troubled Land. N.Y.: Scribner's 1961. 128 p. $3.50 Ten poignant short stories about South Africans, written with deep compassion and consummate art, by the author of Cry the Beloved Country. "Then I said, 'Even the angels would weep.' 'Don't weep,' he said, 'write it.'"

162. Phillips, John.
Kwame Nkrumah and the Future of Africa. London: Faber and Faber, 1960. 272 p. 25/- A thoughtful analysis of the impact of Nkrumah upon Ghana, the tide of Africanism on the move in the states and territories of the Trans-Saharan world, and the role of Nkrumah in the Africa of the near future.

163. Reeves, Ambrose.
Shooting at Sharpeville, the Agony of South Africa. Boston: Houghton Mifflin, 1961. 141 p. $3.50 This book, written by the Bishop of Johannesburg, is an account of the violent shooting which occurred on March 21, 1960, in the city of Sharpeville in South Africa. Illustrations and various documents.

164. Rutherfoord, Peggy, ed.
African Voices; an Anthology of Native African Writing. N.Y.: Vanguard Press, (1960 ?). 208 p. $3.95 Creative writing - short stories, folk tales, descriptions, poems, songs, speeches - by Africans today, revealing humor, pathos and joy. Gathered from many sources, the anthology "adds a fresh ingredient to world literature." Preface by Father Trevor Huddleston, author of Naught For Your Comfort.

165. South Africa and the Rule of Law. Geneva: International Commission of Jurists, 1960. 239 p. $1.00 The all-embracing network of legislation in South Africa which denies equal status and elemental rights to the vast majority of the population; judgment in the light of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. The appendix contains important documents.

166. Thompson, Virginia, and Adloff, Richard.
The Emerging States of French Equatorial Africa. Stanford, Calif.: Stanford University Press, 1960. 595 p. $8.75 The Republic of the Congo, and Republics of Central Africa, Gabon and Tchad - history, political organization, economic conditions, education, religion, and a look into the uncertain future. One chapter is on Christian missions and Messianic movements.

167. Watson, R. G. T.
Tongaati; an African Experiment. London: Hutchinson, 1960. 260 p. £1/10/- The building of Tongaati, a sugar-producing township near Durban, South Africa, as a multi-racial "aggregated community" of Africans, Indians and Europeans. The story of a remarkable experiment that has influeced a wide area. Well illustrated.

Welbourn, F. B.
East African Rebels; a Study of some Independent Churches. London: SCM Press, 1961. 258 p. 21/- An extraordinarily fine study of the independent and separatist Christian sects and movements in East Africa, the relation of these to missionary organization and influence and the future of Christianity in Africa. The effects of growing political and racial consciousness are discussed. Based on extended research and wide observation. The author is Warden of Mitchell College, Makerere, Uganda. Essential reading for the missionary scholar and administrator. Full notes and bibliography.

169. Westphal, Clarence "Skip".
African Heritage; the Story of Africa's Contribution to the World. Minneapolis: T.S. Denison, 1960. 247 p. $3.50 Adventures and discoveries of an American magazine writer on a long safari through Africa, expressing warm appreciation of missionaries and describing - as might be expected - a visit to Lambaréné.

170. Young, Roland, and Fosbrooke, Henry.
Smoke in the Hills; Political Tension in the Morogoro District of Tanganyika.

Evanston, Ill.: Northwestern University Press, 1960. 212 p. (Northwestern University African Studies, 4). $5.50 The smoke rose from fires lit by Tanganyika peasants protesting against modern farming methods. A political and anthropological examination of the Luguru tribal culture and its opposition to new ideas and government institutions. Relevant to the struggle throughout Africa.

F. NEAR EAST, MIDDLE EAST AND NORTH AFRICA

171. Ashford, Douglas E.
Political Change in Morocco. Princeton, N.J.: Princeton University Press, 1961. 432 p. (Princeton Oriental Studies, Social Sciences, 3) $8.50 Historical inquiry into the tortuous adjustment of a modern nationalist movement to political independence. Immense amount of information, well-organized, in on-the-field research by the professor of government at Indiana University.

172. Atlas of the Arab World and the Middle East. London: Macmillan, 1960. 68 p. $9.00 Scientifically prepared and beautifully printed maps of the Arab World and the Middle East, country by country, showing various features of government, topography, climate, and resources. About 100 maps, photographs, explanatory text, and index.

173. Banani, Amin.
The Modernization of Iran, 1921-1941. Stanford, Calif.: Stanford University Press, 1961. 191 p. $5.00 Study of legal reforms promulgated in Iran during the regime of Reza Shah Pahlavi; based largely on Persian sources. The author contends that Islam and Christianity are equally powerless to combat moral degeneration in the nation. Valuable footnotes and bibliography.

174. Boardman, Francis.
Institutions of Higher Learning in the Middle East; a Tabulation and Summary with Some Historical Notes. Washington: Middle East Institute, 1961. 34 p. $1.00 Important information on 134 institutions of higher learning in the Middle East; sixteen countries. Colleges supported by American foundations or missions are included.

175. Brace, Richard and Joan.
Ordeal in Algeria. Princeton, N.J.: Van Nostrand, 1960. 453 p. $6.75 Historical background for today's dramatic happenings; a competent study by a professor of history at Northwestern University and his wife - professional writer and artist. Favorable to the cause of Algerian independence.

176. Clegg, Edward.
Race and Politics; Partnership in the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland. London: Oxford, 1960. 280 p. $4.20 Tribal life, growing racial consciousness, industrial revolution, demands for equality and partnership, and other factors affecting relations between European settlers and native Africans, leading to the creation of the "Federation" in 1953. The author believes the Federation will ultimately break up, the northern part moving toward freedom, the southern part drawn into alignment with South Africa and hopeless self-defense.

177. Ellis, Harry B.
Challenge in the Middle East; Communist Influence and American Policy. N.Y.: Ronald Press, 1960. 238 p. $4.00 In his analysis of Communist penetration in the Middle East and his suggestions for future American policy, this veteran news correspondent defends Nasser as a genuine neutralist.

178. Gabrieli, Francesco.
The Arab Revival. London: Thames and Hudson, 1961. 178 p. (The Great Revolutions) 18/- The civil and political life of the Arabs in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, how these people sought to throw off old empire ties and foreign domination in order to become free and self-governing.

179. Gerster, Georg.
Sahara; Desert of Destiny. Transl. by Stewart Thomson. N.Y.: Coward-McCann, 1961. 302 p. $5.00 The amazing Sahara Desert - its past and present, its ancient legends and undeveloped resources today - described in a work of careful research and lively reporting.

180. Hitti, Philip K.
The Near East in History; a 5000 Year Story. Princeton, N.J.: Van Nostrand, 1961. 574 p. $10.00 A monumental treatment of Near East history from the preliterary age to the present, with emphasis on political changes and religious developments, by an internationally acclaimed authority on Semitic life and literature. Christian missionary effort receives brief mention.

181. Horn, Lucy Winifred.
Hearth and Home in Ethiopia. London: Sudan Interior Mission, n.d. (1960?). 92 p. 2/6 A missionary challenge addressed to Christian women, based on a collection of simple accounts of the effect of Christianity on the lives of Ethiopian women. Written by a veteran New Zealander missionary to that country.

182. Langley, Kathleen M.
The Industrialization of Iraq. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, for the Center for Middle Eastern Studies, Harvard University, 1961. 313 p. (Harvard Middle Eastern Monographs, 5.) $5.00 The growth of modern industry in Iraq, from 1920 to 1958, as studied in the fifties - resources and opportunities, capital, state control, planned projects, labor problems, industrial census, etc. Copious notes, no index. Interesting and informative research by a social scientist.

183. Lengyel, Emil.
The Changing Middle East. N.Y.: The John Day Co., 1960. 376 p. $5.75
A survey of the political developments of the last decade in the Middle East, as these present a persistent challenge to the pax Americana.

184. Roy, Jules,
The War in Algeria. Transl. by Richard Howard. New York: Grove Press. 128 p. $.75 (Paperback, Evergreen Target Book, T-2.) Translated into English from a French "best seller." A condemnation of the white man's greed, injustice and cruelty as a major cause of the Algerian revolution; by the son of a French settler.

185. Sands, William, ed.
The Arab Nation; Paths and Obstacles to Fulfillment. Washington: Middle East Institute, 1961. 117 p. $2.00 Enlightening series of addresses by specialists at the 14th Annual Conference on Middle Eastern Affairs, 1960, on modern Arab nationalism and movements toward political unification.

186. Scott, Frances E.
Dare and Persevere. The story of one hundred years of evangelism in Syria and Lebanon, from 1860 to 1960. London: Lebanon Evangelical Mission, 1960. 143 p. 6/6 The history of the Lebanon Evangelical Mission told by its Field Secretary. Illustrated.

187. Sparrow, Gerald.
Hussein of Jordan. London: George H. Harrap, 1960. 159 p. 15/- Engaging portrait of the remarkable young king of Jordan, showing his fine mind, his talents for leadership, and his relations to his own country and to world affairs.

G. CENTRAL ASIA

188. Fleming, Peter.
Bayonets to Lhasa; the First Full Account of the British Invasion of Tibet in 1904. London: Rupert Hart-Davis, 1961. 319 p. 30/- Story of a strange episode, the military expedition led by Col. Francis Younghusband of Great Britain to Lhasa in 1904 as part of the big power struggle in Asia of that time. Based on exhaustive research, and written with literary craftmanship by the author of The Siege of Peking.

189. Patterson, George N.
Tibet in Revolt. London: Faber and Faber, 1960. 197 p. 21/- A clear, dispassionate record of events in Tibet, drawn from studies of authoritative sources and personal observation, by the Christian writer, George Patterson, author of God's Fool. Solid content and literary merit.

190. Sen, Chanakya, comp. and ed.
Tibet Disappears; a Documentary History of Tibet's International Status, the Great Rebellion and its Aftermath. New York: Asia Publishing House, 1960. 474 p. $6.75 A history of Tibet and its significance in international politics, based largely on documents, treaties, and interviews which the author has collected. Special attention is given to the March, 1959, rebellion and Tibet's relationship to China and India. Appendix and maps.

H. SOUTHERN ASIA

191. Harrison, Selig S., ed.
India and the United States. New York: Macmillan, 1961. 244 p. $5.95 Summaries of speeches and discussions at the significant Washington Conference of May 1959, dealing with facts and trends in India's development and America's vital stake in India's future. Edited, with a good introduction, by a frequent visitor to India, now associate editor of The New Republic.

192. Iyer, Raghavan, ed.
South Asian Affairs, Number One. Carbondale, Ill.: Southern Illinois University Press, 1960. 155 p. (St. Antony's Papers, 8) $3.75 Five unrelated but well-written essays by Indian and western writers on various political and social questions in India, Pakistan and Ceylon. Of special interest is the one on the Soviet re-assessment of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

193. Lamb, Beatrice Pitney.
Introduction to India. Washington, D.C.: American Association of University Women Educational Foundation, 1960. 49 p. $1.00 Excellent guide to the study of modern India, especially helpful in its suggestions of resource materials and annotated reading lists.

194. La Violette, Forrest E.
The Struggle for Survival; Indian Cultures and the Protestant Ethic in British Columbia. Toronto: University of Toronto Press, 1961. 201 p. $5.50 A heavily documented history of the struggles of the coastal Indians of British Columbia to adjust to a dominant white society and to gain control of their own destiny, by the head of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at Tulane University.

195. Leach, E. R.
Pul Eliya, a Village in Ceylon. A Study of Land Tenure and Kinship. Cambridge, Eng.: Cambridge University Press, 1961. 343 p. 45/- Study of a region in north central Ceylon where an ancient irrigation system has profoundly influenced social structure and behavior. Details of land distribution, water distribution, family organization, a search for principles of social continuity with emphasis on individual reactions to the environment. Tables, references, index.

196. Sengupta, Padmini.
Women Workers of India. New York: Asia Publishing House, 1960. 296 p. $3.50 A distinguished woman educator of India describes the work and contribution of Indian women today in all types of occupation, intellectual and professional circles as well as manual labor. A mine of interesting information that deals also with social and economic questions.

197. Thomas, M. M., comp.
Christian Participation in Nation-Building; The Summing Up of a Corporate Study on Rapid Social Change. Bangalore: The National Christian Council of India and The Christian Institute for the Study of Religion and Society, 1960. 325 p. (Social Concerns Series No. 9) Rs. 7 A thought-provoking report of a four-year study program on social philosophy, social action, and their relevance to the mission of the Indian Church.

198. Ward, Barbara.
India and the West. London: Hamish Hamilton, 1961. 247 p. 18/- An analysis of the laissez-faire and totalitarian approaches to economic growth, as pursued by their leading western and eastern representatives, eventuating in a plea for the application of the Marshall approach to India as an effective method of aiding the Asian "experiment" in economic growth within a free society. Perceptively written, by the author of Five Ideas that Change the World.

199. Westerlund, Per.
Captain Bright; a Story of Missionary Heroism and Adventure in the Himalaya Country of Sikkim. Tr. from the Swedish by Ernest Edwin Ryden. Rock Island, Ill.: Augustana Press, 1961. 369 p. $3.75 A compelling novel, based on fact, about a British naval officer who met on a tour of exploration in Sikkim State of the Himalayas a devoted Swedish missionary and later returned to marry her and work with her.

I. SOUTHEAST ASIA

200. Coughlin, Richard J.
Double Identity; the Chinese in Modern Thailand. Hong Kong: Hong Kong University Press, Oxford University Press, 1960. 222 p. H.K. $25.00; U.S. $5.00 Brilliant sociological study of the Chinese minority of 3 million in Thailand, their place in Thai society, and degree of acculturation. The author predicts an increasing Chinese penetration of Southeast Asia.

201. Gardi, René.
Tambaran; An Encounter with Cultures in Decline in New Guinea. Trans. by Eric Northcott. London: Constable, 1960. 201 p. 30/- Absorbing story of an expedition to the Sepik district of northeastern New Guinea, describing the extremely primitive life of the people there - now touched by modernity - and their social and religious practices. Translated from German into English by Eric Northcott. The author pays high tribute to the Christian missionaries, especially Roman Catholics. Illustrated.

202. Kaye, Barrington.
Upper Nankin Street, Singapore; a Sociological Study of Chinese Households Living in a Densely Populated Area. Singapore: University of Malaya Press, 1960. 439 p. 50/- Sociological survey of shocking living conditions in one extremely crowded area of Singapore where numerous persons and families occupy tiny "cubicles." The reports contain much detailed analysis of Chinese household life and problems. By a group of government and university investigators. Religious forms and practices were not studied.

203. Romulo, Carlos P.
I Walked with Heroes. N.Y.: Holt, Rinehart and Winston, 1961. 342 p. $5.00 The gripping autobiography of the Pulitzer Prize winner and former President of the United Nations, replete with intimate portraits of the leaders in world and Philippine history of the twentieth century.

204. Lancaster, Donald.
The Emancipation of French Indochina. London: Oxford University Press, for Royal Institute of International Relations, 1961. 445 p. $7.20 After introductory chapters tracing the history of the three Indochinese States and the events leading up to the establishment of French suzerainty over the Indochina peninsula, the author tells the story of the long struggle with the Viet Minh (1946-54) regime. Select bibliography and map. Beautifully printed.

205. Pym, Christopher.
Mistapim in Cambodia. London: Hodder & Stoughton, 1960. 192 p. $3.25 A popular presentation of customs and culture in Cambodia, related in autobiographical fashion by the author of The Road to Angkor.

206. Runciman, Steven.
The White Rajahs; a History of Sarawak from 1841 to 1946. Cambridge, Eng.: University Press, 1960. 319 p. 27/6 The story of little-known Sarawak in Borneo and its political, social, and economic development under three rajahs--white rajahs. In an era when despotic colonialism was at its height these men showed how enlightened rule could bring peace to a lawless and savage country.

207. Textor, Robert B.
From Peasant to Pedicab Driver; a Social Study of Northeastern Thai Farmers Who Periodically Migrated to Bangkok and Became Pedicab Drivers. New Haven: Yale University Southeast Asia Studies, 1961. 83 p.(Cultural Report Series, 9) $2.50 Sociological study of the samlor, pedicab drivers, who migrated from the villages to Bangkok (this form of transportation abolished in 1960). Based on hundreds of interviews; a revealing survey.

208. United Nations. Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East.
Community Development and Economic Development. I: A Study of the Contribution of Rural Community Development Programmes to National Economic Development in Asia and the Far East. IIA: A Case Study of The Ghosi Community Development Block Uttar Pradesh, India. IIB: A Study of Farmers' Associations in Taiwan. Bangkok: United Nations, 1960. 113, 100, 95 p. $3.00 Professional sociological and economic research; careful collection of data; competent interpretation and conclusions.

209. Williams, Lea E.
Overseas Chinese Nationalism; the Genesis of the Pan-Chinese Movement in Indonesia, 1900-1916. Glencoe, Ill.: Free Press, 1960. 235 p. (Center for International Studies, Massachusetts Institute of Technology) $4.50 A scholarly study, from Indonesian and Dutch sources, of the rise and growth of Chinese minority nationalism in the Netherlands Indies and later Indonesia, its necessity in the past, its uncertain future. A contribution to the understanding of overseas Chinese problems.

J. EAST ASIA

210. Barondes, R. de Rohan, M.D.
China; Lore, Legend and Lyrics. London: Peter Owen, 1960. 238 p. 35/- A scrap-book collection of facts and fancies about the old China. Misspellings and errors in names and facts mar its usefulness.

211. Chow, Ching-wen.
Ten Years of Storm; the True Story of the Communist Regime in China. N.Y.: Holt, Rinehart and Winston, 1960. 323 p. $6.00 A leader in the China Democratic League, who escaped to Hong Kong in 1958, gives a vivid and unfavorable inside account of the Chinese Communist regime since it assumed power in 1949. Foreword by Lin Yutang.

212. Chow, Tse-tsung.
The May Fourth Movement; Intellectual Revolution in Modern China. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 1960. 486 p. (Harvard East Asian Series, 6) $10.00 The story of a student protest movement which really began in 1917 and unloosed the floodgates of liberal thinking in China's intellectual circles, with significant results up to the present time. A fully documented objective, and valuable study, by a Chinese historian.

213. Communism in China. Hong Kong: Union Research Institute, 1959. 254 p. HK $12.00 300 questions about the Chinese Communist movement - government, army, economy, agriculture, labor, communes, social and cultural life, foreign relations, etc., with succinct answers. A good deal of apparently reliable information.

214. Conroy, Hilary.
The Japanese Seizure of Korea: 1868-1910; A Study of Realism and Idealism in International Relations. Philadelphia: University of Pennsylvania Press, 1960. 544 p. $7.50 History of a special area and period in Far Eastern affairs, based on a tremendous amount of research, and leading to the conclusion that idealist aims as well as realistic politics and imperialism motivated Japan's venture in Korea. The author is now an officer in the American Historical Association.

215. Dening, Esler.
Japan. London: Ernest Benn, 1960. 257 p. (Nations of the Modern World Series) 27/- Historical background to modern Japan, post-war Japan, and Japan in the world today; an interpretation through analysis of Japanese national Character, with a look into the future. By a former British ambassador to Japan. The religion of the Japanese, he says, is a refuge rather than an inspiration.

216. Education in the Republic of China. Taiwan: Ministry of Education, (Republic of China) 1960. 147 p. n.p. Text in English and Chinese; information about 22 colleges and universities, 327 secondary and normal schools, other forms of training. Profusely illustrated.

217. Feis, Herbert.
Japan Subdued; the Atomic Bomb and the End of the War in the Pacific. Princeton, N.J.: Princeton University Press, 1961. 199 p. $4.00 A masterly reconstruction of critical events, government discussions, and dramatic decisions from May to August, 1945, including the first use of the atomic bomb; based on thorough research into all available documents. Absorbing account of a momentous turning point in modern history, by a gifted and experienced writer, author of The China Tangle.

218. Hsiao, Kung-Chuan
Rural China; Imperial Control in the Nineteenth Century. Seattle: University of Washington Press, 1960. 783 p. $9.75 Exhaustive research into village life of 19th century China and the controls exercised by the declining Ch'ing (Manchu) Dynasty. The author is a gifted Chinese scholar on the faculty of the University of Washington. He seeks clues from this historical period for an understanding of developments and trends in Communist China.

219. Kirby, E. Stuart, ed.
Contemporary China; Economic and Social Studies, Documents, Chronology, Bibliography. Vol. III - 1958-59. Hong Kong: Hong Kong University Press, 1960. 439 p. US $6.00 Another volume in an extraordinarily valuable series on Communist China: papers, and discussions, based on extensive research, selected documents from the mainland, chronology of important events, current bibliography. Of special interest in this number, "China's Population Problems" by S. Chandrasekhar, who visited China in 1958.

220. Lu Hsun.
A Brief History of Chinese Fiction. Peking: Foreign Languages Press, 1959. 462 p. (China Knowledge Series) $2.50 Lu Hsun, the famous proletarian writer, wrote this history in the nineteen twenties. In spite of its leftist standard of criticism, it is the best available account of Chinese novels and short stories from the legendary period through the Manchu Dynasty.

221. Labin, Suzanne.
The Anthill; The Human Condition in Communist China. N.Y.: Praeger, 1960. 442 p. $6.75 A grim, absorbing narrative, woven out of the reports of fifty-four refugees of all classes from the China mainland, a cross-section of Chinese society. Window on Communist China.

222. Leng, Shao Chuan, and Palmer, Norman D.
Sun Yat-Sen and Communism. N.Y.: Praeger, 1960. 234 p. (Foreign Policy Research Institute Series, University of Pennsylvania, 10). $6.00 A scholarly evaluation of the historical and logical relationship of the father of the Chinese Republic to Communism, by two authorities in the field of international relations. Extensive notes and bibliography.

223. Liu, Earnest (pseud.)
Secret Diary from Red China. (Transcribed by S.T. Tung). Indianapolis: Bobbs-Merrill, 1961. 224 p. $3.95 A first-person account of savage oppression and human courage in Communist China, transcribed from the diary of a brave sufferer.

224. Leynse, James P.
You Can't Clap with One Hand. N.Y.: Vantage Press, 1961. 240 p. $3.75 A novel about the tense conflict between Communist and Christian youth in Red China, ending on a note of Christian love and forgiveness. By a former Presbyterian missionary in Peking.

225. Lyall, Leslie T.
Come Wind, Come Weather; the Present Experience of the Church in China. Chicago: Moody Press, 1960. 95 p. $2.00 Experiences of Chinese Protestant Christians under the Communist regime from 1949 to 1959, stressing what the author (former CIM missionary in China) believes to be the "betrayal of the Church" by its own leaders, but also highlighting the witness of the faithful. Despite a few minor errors of fact, it is a useful historical summary of what has happened to the Chinese Church during the past decade.

226. MacFarquhar, Roderick.
The Hundred Flowers Campaign and the Chinese Intellectuals. N.Y.: Praeger, 1960. 324 p. $6.75 A masterly account of the genesis, development, and premature death of the "hundred flowers" campaign, told through excerpts from Communist Chinese press, with periodic and incisive commentary by the author. Outstanding documentation, a "must" for students of the "New China."

227. Papers on China (Vol. 14) Cambridge, Mass.: East Asian Research Center, Harvard University, 1960. 214 p. $2.00 Another volume in an excellent series of research papers. Two in this issue deal with missionary history: "David Z. Sheffield and the Founding of the North China College," and "Sino-American Cooperation in Medicine: The Origins of Hsiang-ya."

228. Sansom, George.
A History of Japan, 1334-1615. Stanford, Calif.: Stanford University Press, 1961. 442 p. (Stanford Studies in the Civilizations of Eastern Asia) $8.25 A comprehensive and rewarding study, this second of a three-volume critical history of Japan focuses particularly on social and political development. The author is a distinguished western diplomat, historian, member of the Japan Academy.

229. Sorich, Richard, ed.
Contemporary China: A Bibliography of Reports on China Published By The United States Joint Publication Research Service. N.Y.: Joint Committee on Contemporary China of the American Council of Learned Societies and the Social Science Research Council, 1961. 99 p. n.p. List of all the mimeographed reports on Communist China (chiefly translations from Chinese), from the inception of this service in 1957 through July 1960. About 3000 items on a wide range of subjects, including religion on the mainland.

230. Statler, Oliver.
Japanese Inn. N.Y.: Random House, 1961. 265 p. $6.50 Japan's social history since the 16th century seen through the story of the Minaguchi-ya, a famous inn on the great Tokaido Road. Based on indefatigable research, illustrated with fifty Japanese prints and drawings, this is a realistic and enchanting reconstruction of Japan's past.

231. Straelen, Henry van.
Où va le Japon? Tournai, Belgium: Casterman, 1960. 273 p. ("Eglise Vivante") $2.25 A Roman Catholic professor presents a thoughtful interpretation of individual and social life in Japan today; how the Japanese mind works and why Christianity has advanced so slowly in the island nation.

232. Taiwan Christian Year Book 1960; A Survey of the Christian Movement in Taiwan During 1959 With Special Attention to the Ten Years from 1949 to 1959. Taiwan: The Taiwan Missionary Fellowship, 1960. 113 p. $0.50 Summary of Christianity in Taiwan 1950-1960; directory of Christian missions, churches and institutions; description of cooperative enterprises; statistics of Protestant missionaries (534) and church membership (136,250). A very fine, useful handbook of information. Illustrated. Available c/o China Bulletin, 475 Riverside Drive, New York 27, N.Y.

233. Wang, Shao Chi.
China and Her Great Men, with illustrations and maps. Taipei, Taiwan: Chinese Association for the Advancement of Science, 1960. 168 p. $4.00 Chinese history graphically told through illustrated summaries of the main dynasties and periods and brief biographies of great men. Chinese Nationalist point of view. Printed on Chinese paper and bound in typical Chinese style.

234. Wollaston, Nicholas.
China in the Morning; Impressions of a Journey through China and Indo-China. N.Y.: Roy Publishers, 1960. 208 p. $5.95 Frightening account of the regimented human labor and harsh national discipline in Communist China, compared with the self-indulgent softness in neighboring countries to the south. Based on first-hand observation, by an independent traveller and journalist. Striking photographs.

K. PACIFIC ISLANDS

235. Grattan, C. Hartley.
The United States and the Southwest Pacific. Cambridge, Mass.: Harvard University Press, 1961. 273 p. (The American Foreign Policy Library) $5.00 Relations of the Southwest Pacific - Australia, New Zealand, South Sea Islands, and Antarctica - to the United States made real and vivid to the reader in an instructive and well-wirtten book. The missionary contribution to the Pacific Islands is largely ignored.

236. Maher, Robert F.
New Men of Papua; a Study in Culture Change. Madison: University of Wisconsin Press, 1961. 148 p. $5.00 Anthropological study of the Purari tribes in the delta region on the southern coast of New Guinea (Papua): before the Europeans came, early contacts, changes brought by fuller association, influence of western trade and technology, disruption of old cultural ways. The mission work, especially of the London Missionary Society and Seventh-day Adventists, is mentioned.

237. Roth, G. K.
The Story of Fiji. Melbourne: Oxford University Press, (1960?) 64 p. $1.40 Instructive and readable little book on the history, geography, economy, people, and cultural life of Viti (Fiji). Illustrated.

L. AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND

M. GENERAL

238. Schuyler, Philippa Duke.
Adventures in Black and White. N.Y.: Robert Speller & Sons, 1960. 302 p. $4.95 Lively round-the-world travelogue of Philippa Schuyler, gifted pianist, full of strange and exciting adventures. In a long chapter, she describes her visit to Albert Schweitzer.

VII. CHRISTIANITY AND NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS; OTHER IDEOLOGIES

A. RELIGIONS OF PRIMITIVE PEOPLES

239. Demon Experiences in Many Lands. Chicago: Moody Press, 1960. 128 p. n.p. Various accounts of "Demon Experiences" as told by missionaries and others, collected and published for the purpose of stimulating discussion on this subject.

240. Norbeck, Edward.
Religion in Primitive Society. N.Y.: Harper, 1961. 318 p. $5.50 A leading American anthropologist and specialist in Oriental religions presents a scientific and sympathetic survey of the religious beliefs and practices of primitive peoples, and discusses various theories concerning the role of religion in human life and culture. Good for general reading and class-room use. Full bibliography.

B. THE GREAT NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS

241. Appleton, George.
On the Eightfold Path; Christian Presence Amid Buddhism. N.Y.: Oxford, 1961. 156 p. (Christian Presence Series) $2.50 Second in the "Christian Presence" Series. A Choice little book, interpreting the Gospel by word and love, written with sympathetic insight into the Buddhist faith.

242. Asad, Muhammad.
The Principles of State and Government in Islam. Berkeley, Calif.: University of California Press, 1961. 107 p. $3.00 Careful discussion of the principles that should underlie the constitution of an "Islamic State," and application of the political ideas of Islam to contemporary world society. By an Islamic scholar, former minister of Pakistan to the United Nations.

243. Chou, Hsiang-Kuang.
Dhyana Buddhism in China; Its History and Teaching. Allahabad: Indo-Chinese Literature Publications (for Young Men's Buddhist Assoc. of China), 1960. 216 p. 18/- A noted teacher and professor of Chinese and Indian philosophy, history, and religion, writes a brief layman's introduction to the history and nature of Dhyana Buddhism (Ch'an in China; Zen in Japan). Frequent quotations from primary sources, together with the life stories of some of its sages of the patriarchal period.

244. Daniel, Norman.
Islam and the West; the Making of an Image. Edinburgh: The University Press, 1960. 443 p. £ 3/3/- Competent scholarship applied to research on the distorted western image of Islam in the period 1100 to 1350, and on the polemic attacks made on the Muslim faith and community by Christians of that time. A help toward better understanding. Full documentation and copious notes.

245. Kahn, Hazrat Inayat.
The Sufi Message of Hazrat Inayat Khan. Vol. 1: The Way of Illumination; The Inner Life; The Soul, Whence and Whither? The Purpose of Life. London: Barrie and Rockliff, 1960. 240 p. $6.00 This introductory volume in the proposed definitive edition of the works of the mystic who lectured in the West from 1910 to 1926 contains instructive and representative selections of Sufi thought.

246. Olsson, Eva.
The Philosophy of Sri Aurobindo in the Light of the Gospel. Madras: Christian Literature Society, 1959. 73 p. (Indian Research Series, 10) Rs. 3- Sri Aurobindo (1872-1950), an eminent religious philosopher in India, represents the current renaissance in Hinduism. This is a critique of his teaching and influence in the light of orthodox Christianity.

247. Padwick, Constance E.
Muslim Devotions; a Study of Prayer-Manuals in Common Use. London: SPCK, 1961. 313 p. 35/- An explication of the signal elements in the devotional life of Islam by an analysis of pertinent excerpts from the vast sources of Muslim devotional literature. Includes a useful listing of manuals and single devotions of importance.

248. Pennar, Jaan, ed.
Islam and Communism. N.Y.: Institute for the Study of the U.S.S.R. (Carnegie International Center) 1960. 72 p. $1.00 A collection of essays dealing with the relationship of the Soviet Union to Islam. The writers, first of all, focus their attention on Soviet policy regarding the Muslims within Russian borders. Second, they undertake a study of Soviet policy in the Arab world and trace the rise of communism therein.

249. Rahbar, Daud.
God of Justice; a Study in the Ethical Doctrine of the Qur'ān. Leiden: E.J. Brill, 1960. 446 p. Gld. 30 "The author has developed and exemplified in this work the principle of close and exhaustive contextual study of the Quran...The resulting picture is one of meticulous divine justice in which God requites exactly as man deserves...Dr. Rahbar's pursuit of this principle has the quality of pioneering. The result is both commendable and instructive." -A. Kenneth Cragg -

250. Rieker, Hans-Ulrich.
Beggar Among the Dead. Trans. by Edward Fitzgerald. London: Rider, 1960. 244 p. $6.25 The strange odyssey of a German pilgrim who, fleeing from western conventions and living as a Buddhist mendicant monk, travelled through the mountains and plains of poverty-stricken India, and then returned to his old world to bring "the message of the awakened ones." A picture of Hinduism in the raw.

251. Titus, Murray T.
Islam in India and Pakistan; a Religious History of Islam in India and Pakistan. Revised reprint. Park Town, Madras: The Christian Literature Society, 1959. 328 p. (The Christian Students' Library No. 20). Rs 3.75 A standard textbook for higher theological education in India. Reprint of Indian Islam (1929).

252. Waley, Arthur., tr.
Ballads and Stories from Tun-huang; an Anthology. N.Y.: Macmillan, 1960. 273 p. $5.25 Chinese manuscripts - ballads, stories, folk-tales - dating from the fifth to the tenth centuries A.D., and discovered in caves of north-west China more than fifty years ago, translated into English for the first time by the famous sinologue who has made so much of Chinese literature available to the West.

253. Watt, W. Montgomery.
Muhammad, Prophet and Statesman. London: Oxford University Press, 1961. 250 p. $4.00 Abridgment of the author's Muhammad at Mecca and Muhammad at Medina; a short, objective biography with particular attention to the background out of which Islam sprang with such rapid power. For the scholar and the general reader. British edition has same title.

254. Yale, John, ed.
What Vedanta Means to Me; a Symposium. N.Y.: Doubleday, 1960. 215 p. $3.95 Collection of personal testimonials by western converts to the teachings of Sri Ramakrishna, nineteenth-century Indian mystic.

255. Zaehner, R. C.
Hindu and Muslim Mysticism. London: University of London, Athlone Press: 1960. 234 p. (School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London, Jordan Lectures in Comparative Religion, 5) 30/- In the 1959 Jordan Lectures, the Spalding Professor of Eastern Religions and Ethics in the University of Oxford, traces the development of mystical thought in the formative periods of the Hindu and Muslim traditions, emphasizing the variety within mysticism, and the influence of the former tradition upon the latter. Valuable appendices.

256. Ziadeh, Nicola A.
Sanūsīya; a Study of a Revivalist Movement in Islam. Leiden, Netherlands. E.J. Brill, 1958. 148 p. Gld. 12.00 Research on a revivalist movement within Islam of the 18th and 19th centuries, centering primarily in Libya.

At one time, a new hope it proved to be an escapist trend, attempting to restore the first century of Muslim life and not suited to modern needs.

C. JUDAISM

257. Hedenquist, Göte.
The Church and the Jews; a Study Handbook. London: Edinburgh House Press, 1961. 47 p. 3/6 A brief series of outlines for study sessions, designed for those interested in the relationship of the Christian Church and Judaism, prepared by a former director of the International Missionary Council's Committee on the Christian Approach to the Jews.

258. Kaplan, Mordecai M.
The Greater Judaism in the Making; a Study of the Modern Evolution of Judaism. N.Y.: Reconstructionist Press, 1960. 565 p. $7.50 Kaplan's magnum opus, a study of the historical roots of, and contemporary challenges to, Jewish faith and culture. He calls for a bold revision of Judaism to meet the demands of a coming universal civilization.

259. Lewin, Isaac.
Late Summer Fruit. N.Y.: Bloch Pub. Co., 1960. 174 p. $3.00 A collection of essays discussing Judaism before World War II, during the war, and after the war. The author is especially concerned about the plight of Judaism in an un-Jewish world and the conflict of Jewish legal structure with the laws of nations in which Jews reside.

260. Piper, Otto; Jocz, Jakob; Floreen, Harold.
The Church Meets Judaism. Minneapolis, Minn.: Augsburg Publishing House. 1960. 98 p. $1.75 An appraisal of contemporary Judaism from the viewpoint of prospective evangelism, and an attempt to discover a suitable approach to the evangelical task, on the part of three professors of theology who are committed to the principle of Jewish missions.

D. COMMUNISM

261. Burks, R. V.
The Dynamics of Communism in Eastern Europe. Princeton, N.J.: Princeton University Press, 1961. 244 p. $5.00 Unusual research project, based on scores of interviews in eight countries of Eastern Europe - the hard core and soft periphery. The cross section of Communist movements draws largely from urban populations, intelligentsia and professionals, and ethnic groups open to Communist appeals. A valuable study of the nature of Communist society.

262. Fulton, Robert Brank.
Original Marxism: Estranged Offspring. A Study of Points of Contact and of Conflict Between Original Marxism and Christianity. Boston: Christopher Pub. House, 1960. 167 p. $3.00 An all too brief study of original Marxism, as it was influenced by, and reacted against, the Judeo-Christian tradition, together with a summary outline of the similarities and differences of the two traditions. The author has been a missionary in China and Puerto Rico.

263. Meyer, Frank S.
The Moulding of Communists; the Training of the Communist Cadre. N.Y.: Harcourt, Brace, 1961. 214 p. (Communism in American Life) $5.00 A most interesting study of the cadre--i.e. the core of Leninist-Marxist revolutionaries--within the Communist party and the way in which it is trained and disciplined.

264. Lifton, Robert Jay, M.D.
Thought Reform and the Psychology of Totalism; a Study of "Brainwashing" in China. N.Y.: Norton, 1961. 510 p. $6.95 A penetrating psychological analysis of "brainwashing" and ideological extremism as an approach to re-education, through careful case studies of the thought-reform experiences and backgrounds of various Western civilians and Chinese intellectuals. The author, Research Associate in Psychiatry at Harvard University, concludes with a discussion of the alternative approaches to re-education. Indispensable for a study of "brainwashing."

E. GENERAL AND OTHER RELIGIONS

265. Allen, E. L.
Christianity Among the Religions. Boston: Beacon Press, 1961. 159 p. $1.45 History and evaluation of the major attitudes taken toward the non-Christian religions in the course of Christian thought and Western philosophy since the 13th Century, by a distinguished British scholar and former missionary.

266. Bach, Marcus.
Strange Sects and Curious Cults. N.Y.: Dodd, Mead, 1961. 277 p. $4.50 A noted interpreter of modern religions turns his attention to the byways of peculiar faiths, contemporary forms of ancient beliefs - sex sects, conscience cults, the utopian-seekers (including Buchmanism). The author charitably finds some value in every curious religious manifestation.

267. Hayes, Carlton J. H.
Nationalism: a Religion. N.Y.: Macmillan, 1960. 187 p. $5.00 A popular history of the "religion" of nationalism by the Seth Low Professor Emeritus of History in Columbia University, this is an eminently readable distillation of the studies of a lifetime. The importance of Christianity as a universal religion.

268. Humphreys, Christmas.
The Way of Action; a Working Philosophy for Western Life. London: George Allen & Unwin, 1960. 195 p. 18/- The "sermonizing" of a syncretistic dilettante. Humphreys sets forth this "Way of Action," whose goal is really the Zen ecstatic flash of oneness with Being, the moment of Non-action which fulfills action, in the hope that western readers will see what he sees in Zen Buddhism, Taoism, and the Hinduism of the Gita. Short glossary of terms, and brief list of books of interest to Humphreys.

269. Koestler, Arthur.
The Lotus and the Robot. N.Y.: Macmillan, 1961. 296 p. $3.95 The world-renowned author of Darkness at Noon employs his reportorial genius in a pilgrimage through India and Japan, searching for an eastern answer to the western dilemma, and concludes that the answer is not forthcoming.

270. Kraemer, Hendrik.
World Cultures and World Religions; the Coming Dialogue. Phila.: Westminster Press, 1961. 386 p. $6.50 Annotated in Selected List No. 16. See #201.

271. Lincoln, C. Eric.
The Black Muslims in America. Boston: Beacon Press, 1961. 276 p. $4.95 A book attracting wide attention, about the militant, anti-Christian, Chicago-centered movement of 100,000 Negroes in the United States who preach black autonomy and supremacy, and its alleged tie with Islam. Competent, and disturbing, sociological research.

272. Lindenberg, Vladimir.
Meditation and Mankind; Practices in Prayer and Meditation throughout the World. London: Rider & Co. 1959. 206 p. 21/- A survey of the practices of prayer and meditation among the various religions and religious groups of the world. The author suggests that only through the practice of prayer and "conscious introspection" can modern man find the way to God.

273. Parrinder, Geoffrey.
Worship in the World's Religions. London: Faber and Faber, 1961. 239 p. 21/- Authoritative text by a well-known scholar of religions, on the world's living faiths from the viewpoint of the deity or objects worshiped and the ways of worship - in the religious life of the ordinary believer. The book covers pre-literary religions, India and Southern Asia, the Far East, Near East, and the West, with excellent illustrative material. Fills a long existing need.

274. Smart, Ninian.
A Dialogue of Religions. London: SCM Press, 1960. 142 p. (Library of Philosophy and Theology) 18/- Conversations between a Christian, a Jew, a Moslem, a Hindu, and a Buddhist, on various religious questions; rather artificially contrived discourse.

275. Smith, M.G.; Augier, Roy; Nettleford, Rex.
University College of the West Indies; the Ras Tafari Movement in Kingston, Jamaica. Kingston (?): Institute of Social and Economic Research, 1960. 54 p. n.p. Research into a religious movement in Jamaica which believes in the deity of Emperor Haile Selassie and urges emigration of Jamaicans to Ethiopia.

VIII. SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

276. Afnan, Ruhi M.
The Great Prophets: Moses-Zoroaster-Jesus. N.Y.: Philosophical Library, 1960. 457 p. $5.00 The one "Perennial Religion," revealing one divine purpose in stimulating man's spiritual development, that appeared in the prophets, Moses, Zoroaster, Jesus and finally Mohammed. The turgid exposition, abstruse and heavy style, make the book difficult reading.

277. Almond, Gabriel A., and Coleman, James S., eds.
The Politics of the Developing Areas. Princeton, N.J.: Princeton University Press, 1960. 591 p. (Center of International Studies, Princeton University.) $10.00 Comparative political science in the developing areas of Asia, Africa, the Near East and Latin America. Keen analysis of varying situations and problems, and of the different types of government. A ground-breaking survey by a group of experts.

278. Aron, Raymond.
On War. Transl. from the French by Terence Kilmartin. Garden City, N.Y.: Doubleday, 1959. 163 p. $3.50 A first-rate French philosopher argues for moderate and practical limitation of conventional arms, and, above all, avoidance of provocative policies that will force mankind toward atomic war. Thoughtful and timely analysis of the world's hopes for peace.

279. Barnes, Roswell P.
Under Orders; the Churches and Public Affairs. Garden City, N.Y.: Doubleday, 1961. 138 p. $1.00 Why the churches are involved in public affairs, social problems within the Church, relations with other agencies, major social tensions and ten urgent emphases. A discerning exposition by the able American secretary of the World Council of Churches.

280. Benham, Frederic.
Economic Aid To Underdeveloped Countries. London: Oxford University Press; issued under the auspices of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, 1961. 121 p. $2.00 A clear and dispassionate answer to many questions about the principles and methods of economic aid to less developed countries. A small book packed with useful information and uncommon common sense. Professor Benham, of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, has traveled widely.

281. Blake, Nelson Manfred, and Barck, Oscar Theodore, Jr.
The United States in its World Relations. N.Y.: McGraw-Hill, 1960. 840 p. (McGraw-Hill Series in American History) $7.95 A rather exhaustive study of the United States and its diplomatic relations with the nations of the world from 1776 to the present. Maps, index, and a detailed bibliography of primary and secondary sources.

282. Bloomfield, Lincoln P.
The United Nations and U.S. Foreign Policy; A New Look at the National Interest. Boston: Little, Brown, 1960. 276 p. $4.75 A fresh and exciting study of the United Nations in relation to American national ideals and interests; constructive new proposals for making UN machinery more effective in advancement of American and free world purposes.

283. Bozeman, Adda B.
Politics and Culture in International History. Princeton, N.J.: Princeton University Press, 1960. 560 p. $10.00 The author believes that each nation of the modern world is " a separate stage upon which local, communist, and Western European systems of reference and belief interact" and that each is likely to evolve its own "syncretistic system" of political structure. Thus, nationalism is the key to the modern world of nations.

284. Calvocoressi, Peter.
South Africa and World Opinion. London: Oxford University Press, under the auspices of Institute of Race Relations, 1961. 68 p. $1.00 A brief exploration into the political and economic weapons available for use against the Union of South Africa by nations interested in doing something about apartheid.

285. Chen, Kuan-I.
World Population Growth and Living Standards. N.Y.: Bookman Associates, 1960. 93 p. $4.00 A brief history of population growth and a projection of that growth into the future, presented as the major obstacle to any increase in world living standards, by the Assistant Professor of Economics at Fairleigh Dickinson University.

286. Ch'en, Kung-Po.
The Communist Movement in China. N.Y.: East Asian Institute of Columbia University, 1960. 148 p. (Columbia University East Asian Series, No. 7) n.p. Professor C. Martin Wilbur of Columbia University has ably edited an M.A. thesis, written in 1954, on the beginnings of the Chinese Communist Party, and has added a sketch of the author's life and connections with Communism. Valuable source material.

287. Claude, Inis L., Jr.
Swords into Plowshare; the Problems and Progress of International Organization. 2d ed., revised and enlarged. N.Y.: Random House, 1959. 537 p. $6.75
An encyclopedic text on the history of international organization in the 19th and 20th centuries, with examination of the problems and prospects of important agencies today through which such organization has found expression. Various approaches to world peace are considered. "The United Nations may not be the last or best hope of mankind, but it is an indispensable instrument..." The appendixes contain significant documents for reference.

288. Cleveland, Harlan, ed.
The Promise of World Tensions. N.Y.: Macmillan, 1961. 157 p. $3.50 Six Nobel Peace Prize winners and five other world statesmen discuss the opportunities for a better world within the tensions of our time. A notable contribution.

289. Cowen, D. V.
Liberty, Equality, Fraternity - Today. Johannesburg: South African Institute of Race Relations, 1961. 35 p. (The Alfred and Winifred Hoernlé Memorial Lecture 1961.) n.p. A sternly realistic and courageous indictment of apartheid and its dire results, by a professor of law in the University of Capetown.

290. Current School Enrolment Statistics. Paris: Unesco, 1960. 51 p. $1.00 The most recent UNESCO statistics of school enrolment throughout the world, classified by types and grades of education. Valuable references.

291. Dallin, David J.
Soviet Foreign Policy After Stalin. Philadelphia; Lippincott, 1961. 543 p. $7.95 Fully documented and fascinating history of Soviet foreign policy from 1953 to the present time, the characteristics of the Krushchev era, and an assessment of Russia's strength today and chances of establishing a world-wide Communist empire. Eleventh book on the USSR by this patient and astute scholar, thoroughly familiar with the Russian people and language.

292. Documents on the Sino-Indian Question. Peking: Foreign Languages Press, 1960. 143 p. $0.60 Ten letters exchanged between The Indian and Chinese Communist Governments, between September 8, 1959, and February 5, 1960, highlighting the sharp dispute over territorial boundaries.

293. Fischer, Louis.
Russia, America, and the World. N.Y.: Harper, 1961. 244 p. $4.50 The famous roving author reviews the power struggle between Russia and America and attempts to show how this struggle affects every nation and every person in the world today. He urges a more imaginative and sensitive approach to under-developed countries.

294. Garn, Stanley M.
Human Races. Springfield, Ill.: Charles C. Thomas, 1961. 137 p. $5.50 What race in man is, the persistence of racial types, the changing nature of natural populations, physiological and psychological differences, adaptation to geography and climates, list of geographic and local races. A scientific exposition.

295. Garvey, James Emmett.
Marxist-Leninist China: Military and Social Doctrine. N.Y.: Exposition Press, 1960. 447 p. (An Exposition - University Book) $6.00 Marxism in its Chinese form applied to military doctrines and strategy; an analysis based on studies of Mao Tse-tung's writings and other Chinese sources. Throws light on current history. Copicus footnotes, index.

296. Handbook on International Study: For Foreign Nationals, 3rd ed. N.Y.: Institute of International Education, 1961. 304 p. $3.00 Invaluable compendium of information for students coming to the United States: features of the American educational system; accredited institutions; scholarships and awards; English language and orientation; travel and tax advice, government regulations affecting foreign nationals; bibliography.

297. Handbook on International Study: For U.S. Nationals. (3rd ed.) N.Y.: Institute of International Education, 1961. 303 p. $3.00 Educational opportunities abroad for Americans, awards and special programs, higher institutions by countries, government regulations, educational exchange, and other valuable information. Nearly 300,000 Americans are studying overseas in various capacities.

298. Hauser, Philip M.
Population Perspectives. New Brunswick, N.J.: Rutgers University Press, 1960. 183 p. $3.50 Most of the book deals with the population explosion in the United States; the first chapter is a sober, lucid discussion of the population explosion in the world, especially in the under-privileged countries. The author, Director of the Population Research and Training Center at the University of Chicago, urges "responsible parenthood."

299. Jaspers, Karl.
The Future of Mankind. (Trans. from the German by E. B. Ashton) Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1961. 342 p. $5.95 A wide-ranging study of the world crisis today, the choices before mankind, and the hopes for a "reasonable" way forward. "We may quail before the course of history as before a restlessly rising wave and we may be swept away. But we may join in building dikes, and men have been able to stand fast." A bracing philosophy for our dangerous era.

300. Jenks, C. Wilfred.
Human Rights and International Labour Standards. N.Y.: Praeger, 1960 (Published under the auspices of the London Institute of World Affairs). 159 p. $5.50 Progress in recent years on the formulation and application of international labour standards. The author is Assistant Director-General of the International Labour Office.

301. Kissinger, Henry A.
The Necessity for Choice; Prospects of American Foreign Policy. N.Y.: Harper, 1960. 370 p. $5.50 The gifted professor of government at Harvard University surveys critically the problems of American and western survival and calls for creative innovations in order to break through our present dilemmas. A provocative discussion.

302. Hayes, Samuel P.
An International Peace Corps; the Promise and Problems. Washington: Public Affairs Institute, 1961. 96 p. $1.00 Answers to many questions about the proposed "International Peace Corps;" brought together in a compact and readable pamphlet.

303. Knauth, Oliver D.
U.S. Foreign Policy in a Changing World. Washington: National Planning Association, 1960. 76 p. (Planning Pamphlet 110) $1.50 Frank analysis of American foreign policy as seen against the present situation and the foreseeable future, in non-technical language, with suggestions for improvement and adaptation of the U.N. organization.

304. Krishnaswami, Arcot.
Study of Discrimination in the Matter of Religious Rights and Practices. N.Y.: United Nations, 1960. 79 p. $1.00 The de facto and de jure in relation to freedom of thought, conscience and religion around the world; various forms of differential treatment; objective recommendations. Generalizations, with little concrete material from different countries. A study made for the United Nations.

305. Livingstone, A. S.
The Overseas Student in Britain; with Special Reference to Training Courses in Social Welfare. Manchester, Eng.: University Press, 1960. 169 p. 14/- Problems of adjustment faced by the ten thousand overseas students in Britain; an examination of current practice and trends in social-welfare training which will best prepare these students for national reconstruction in their own countries.

306. Lindsay, Michael (Lord Lindsay of Birker).
Is Peaceful Co-existence Possible? East Lansing: Michigan State University Press, 1960. 252 p. $5.00 Lord Lindsay describes in full his unsuccessful attempt to secure Communist discussion of his statement on the non-Communist case in world affairs, and analyzes trenchantly the seemingly insuperable difficulties in reasonable dialogue with the Communists. Suggestions to the Free World on future approaches. A sincere and disturbing book.

307. Louka, Kathryn T.
The Role of Population in the Development of Southeast Asia. Washington, D.C.: George Washington University, 1960. 50 p. (Population Research Project of The George Washington University.) $1.60 The population of Asia is expected to more than double by 2000 A.D. Necessary increase in agricultural and industrial production, and conditions for meeting physical and social needs of the new multitudes are set forth in this helpful research booklet. Statistical data for each country.

308. McLellan, David S., et al.
The Theory and Practice of International Relations. Englewood Cliffs, N.J.: Prentice-Hall, 1960. 542 p. $5.95 Selections from the writings of fifty specialists; a clear-cut introduction to the complicated field of international relations, combining the theoretical and practical. Subjects covered include the study of international affairs, the state system, reduction of tensions, organization of international society. A valuable symposium.

309. The Needs of Asia in Primary Education; A Plan for the Provision of Compulsory Primary Education in the Region. Paris: UNESCO, 1961. 60 p. (Educational Studies and Documents, No. 41.) $1.00 A working plan for the provision of universal compulsory and free primary education in Asia, 1960-1980; valuable statistics, analysis of trends, statement of objectives, documents. Essential reference book for educators.

310. Neff, Kenneth L.
National Higher Technical Education in Indonesia; Recent Trends. Washington: U.S. Dept. of Health, Education, and Welfare, Office of Education (Government Printing Office), 1961. 67 p. (Studies in Comparative Education.) $0.45 Indonesia's attempt to meet the desperate need for technically trained personnel and the progress achieved, information on the two leading universities; curriculum plans; student problems.

311. Osborn, Frederick.
This Crowded World. N.Y.: Public Affairs Committee, 1960. 28 p. (Public Affairs Pamphlet No. 306). $0.25 A small pamphlet, packed with information on population growth in the world and its implications for the future; "the solution is that births should go down as deaths go down, but this is not an easy thing to bring about."

312. Perspectives on Peace, 1910-1960. N.Y.: Frederick A. Praeger, under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, 1960. 202 p. $3.00 Thoughtful and thought-provoking papers by twelve wise, experienced, world statesmen on requirements for a durable peace in the difficult years ahead.

313. Roucek, Joseph S., ed.
Contemporary Political Ideologies. N.Y.: Philosophical Library, 1961. 470 p. $6.00 A symposium by 21 American specialists which views the various ideologies and governmental structures today. Tke varieties of communism, socialism, nationalism, and democracy are scrutinized and evaluated. A concluding chapter on the "American welfare state" attempts to show that there is no real ideology present in the U.S. Rather, it is replaced by a "mature politics."

314. Scanlon, David G., ed.
International Education; a Documentary History. N.Y.: Teachers College, Columbia Univ., Bureau of Publications, 1960. 196 p. (Classics in Education, No. 5) $1.95 Sixteen important documents of the modern period, dealing with various types of educational and cultural relations among nations. Useful source book.

315. Schein, Edgar H., et al.
Coercive Persuasion; a Socio-psychological Analysis of the "Brainwashing" of American Civilian Prisoners by the Chinese Communists. N.Y.: W. W. Norton, 1961. 320 p. $6.75 A scientific study of "brain-washing," as a new and powerful weapon against the mind of man; the methods used, the agents and the targets, psychological explanations of the changes effected, and parallel phenomena in our own society.

316. Stevens, Paul M.
The Ultimate Weapon - Christianity; the Case for a Foreign Policy of Militant Christianity. N.Y.: Thomas Nelson, 1961. 158 p. $3.95 A popular appeal for a Christian "peace corps" as the answer to world Communism, by the director of the Southern Baptist Radio and Television Commission.

317. Smythe, Lewis S. C.
Southern Churches and Race Relations; Report of the Second Interracial Consultation held at The College of the Bible (Lexington, Ky.) July 18-22, 1960. Lexington, Ky.: College of the Bible, 1960. 164 p. n.p. Seven addresses and a "public statement." Unusually fine papers that will help toward international understanding of the "American dilemma."

318. Van Ettinger, J.
Towards a Habitable World; Task-Problems and Methods-Acceleration. Amsterdam and London: Elsevier Pub. Co.,1960. 318 p. 55/- A book by a mechanical engineer who is aware of the population explosion in our world and sincerely believes that one way in which this increase can be met and the happiness of all can be insured is by purposeful building: housing for a growing population, storage space for food, more dams for increased power production, more schools for better learning facilities.

IX. ANTHROPOLOGY AND RELATED SUBJECTS

319. Bastide, Roger.
Les religions africaines au Brésil, vers une sociologie des interpénétrations de civilisations. Paris: Presses Universitaires de France, 1960. 578 p. (Bibliothèque de Sociologie Contemporaine) Fr. 24 Professor Bastide of the Sorbonne is the author of this splendid sociological analysis of the inter-penetration of cultures in Brazil and especially the acculturation of the African Negro in that great land. The place of the African immigrant in the modern religious life of Brazil is carefully discussed.

320. Birket-Smith, Kaj.
Primitive Man and His Ways; Patterns of Life in Some Native Societies. Trans. from the Danish by Roy Duffell. London: Odhams Press, 1960. 239 p. $6.25. Cultural analysis of six primitive societies, including the Australian aborigines, the Tuareg, the Maori, the Lapps, Plains Indians, and the Powhatan and Pamlico tribes. Splendid bibliographies and photographs. No index.

321. Chapekar, L. N.
Thakurs of the Sahyadri. Bombay: Oxford University Press, 1960. 227 p. (University of Bombay Publications Sociology Series No. 5) Rs. 22.50 ($6.00) Sociological study of the Thakurs who inhabit the ghat regions of Western India: family life, economy, birth, marriage and funeral customs, arts and religion. The Thakurs are being assimilated with the plains farmers but retain some of their hunting-age characteristics.

322. Deschamps, Hubert and Vianès, Suzanne.
Le Peuple Malgache. I: Les Malgaches du Sud-est; Antemoro, Antesaka, Antambahoaka, Peuples de Farafangana, (Antefasi, Zafisoro, Sahavoai, Sahafatra) Paris: Presses Universitaires de France, 1959. 118 p. (Monographies Ethnologiques) Fr. 800 Ethnological survey of the peoples of southeastern Madagascar. Special emphasis on their organization, individual and cultural traits, religion and magic. Illustrated.

323. Driver, Harold E.
Indians of North America. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 1961. 667 p. $10.95 An encyclopedic survey of seventeen North American Indian cultural patterns as they existed between the 16th and 19th centuries. Based on the writings of western observers and anthropological researches. Impressive and valuable work, by a professor of anthropology at Indiana University; map and index.

324. Jablow, Alta.
Yes and No; the Intimate Folklore of Africa - Dilemma tales, proverbs, stories of love, and adult riddles. N.Y.: Horizon, 1961. 223 p. $3.95 Entertaining folk tales told around African village fires, revealing comic and tragic dilemmas in tribal life. Collection by a woman anthropologist who accompanied her husband on long journeys to West Africa. Windows into African social life.

325. La Fontaines, J. S.
The Gisu of Uganda. London: International African Institute, 1959. 68 p. (East Central Africa, Part X, Ethnological Survey of Africa, Daryll Forde, ed.) 9/6 Ethnographic study of the Gisu, an agricultural Bantu-speaking people, some 50 miles north of Lake Victoria: their population of half a million, economy, social and political relations, family life, religion, belief and rituals.

326. Maquet, Jacques J.
The Premise of Inequality in Ruanda; a Study of Political Relations in a Central African Kingdom. London: Oxford University Press, for the International African Institute, 1961. 199 p. $5.60 Indigenous political organization of Ruanda, Africa, as of 1910, social system, kinship and affinity, marriage and family. Study made in 1950 by a social anthropologist, based on interviews with 300 Tutsi, the dominant class. Penetrating and significant research.

327. Mead, Margaret, and Bunzel, Ruth L., eds.
The Golden Age of American Anthropology. N.Y.: George Braziller, 1960. 630 p. $10.00 A thick symposium of writings by eminent American anthropologists, dealing chiefly with the native Indian tribes and their cultures. Distinguished volume; unfortunately no index.

328. Oliveira, Roberto Cardoso de
O Processo de Assimilaçao dos Terêna. Rio de Janeiro: Museu Nacional, 1960. 160 p. (Serie Livros I) n.p. Assimilation of the Terena Indian tribe, one of the major indigenous groups of Brazil, who live on the southwestern border next to Paraguay. Religious beliefs and the results of missionary work among them.

329. Périot, Gérard.
Night of the Tall Trees; an Account of a Journey of 1500 Miles on Foot Through the Liberian Jungle. (Transl. from the French by Edward Fitzgerald) London: Frederick Muller, 1960. 263 p. 25/- The brave odyssey of a 19-year-old French explorer who penetrated 1,500 miles on foot the unknown forest hinterland of Liberia, and carefully observed the life and customs of the Sarpoe, Kivi, and other primitive tribes. The last section describes his capture, death sentence and hair-raising escape. Christian missions are mentioned.

330. Schaden, Egon.
A Mitologia Heróica de Tribos Indígenas do Brasil. Rio de Janeiro: Ministério da Educaçao e Cultura, 1959. 183 p. $1.25 Ethno-sociological study of the hero myths of Brazilian Indian tribes and of the occurrence of messianism in connection with hero-mythology, resulting from the clash of native cultures with western civilization. Illustrative material from various tribes. English resumé of six pages. Full bibliography.

331. Turner, V. W.
Ndembu Divination; Its Symbolism and Techniques. Manchester; Eng.: Rhodes-Livingstone Institute by the Manchester University Press, 1961. 85 p. (Rhodes-Livingstone Papers, 31.) 12/6 How Ndembu diviners in Northern Rhodesia reveal causes of misfortune and death; their characteristics and the tools of their trade. Anthropological case studies.

332. UNESCO.
International Bibliography of Social and Cultural Anthropology (Vol. IV). Paris: Unesco, 1960. 341 p. (Documentation in the Social Sciences) $6.50. Fourth volume of a valuable bibliographic reference book, covering all phases of anthropological study. Total of 4896 items. Good author and subject indexes, and list of periodicals.

333. Willmott, Donald Earl.
The Chinese of Semarang: a Changing Minority Community in Indonesia. Ithaca, N.Y.: Cornell University Press, 1960. 374 p. $5.75 A superior sociological study, by a Canadian scholar who spent some time in Semerang, capital city of Central Java. The survey of the Chinese minority, one-sixth of the total population covers history, community structure, economic activities, organizations and leadership, education and religion, family and kinship. There is a long and valuable section on Christianity and the churches, analyzing reasons for Christian influence in this society.

X. THEOLOGICAL, WORSHIP AND DEVOTIONAL

334. Brown, Robert McAfee.
The Spirit of Protestantism. N.Y.: Oxford University Press, 1961. 264 p.

$4.50 A fine attempt to determine what Protestantism is and to assess its honestly in terms of its strengths and weaknesses. Clear thought and vigorous expression.

335. Coulson, C. A.
Science, Technology and the Christian. N.Y.: Abingdon, 1960. 111 p. $2.50 A respected English physicist, mathematician, and Methodist lay-preacher, speaks out in this short essay to fellow-laymen whose responsibility it is to evaluate and criticize the activities of the modern scientist and the use to which his work is being put.

336. Kean, Charles Duell.
Christian Faith and Pastoral Care. Greenwich, Conn.: Seabury Press, 1961. 139 p. $3.75 The development of "pastoral care" during the past fifty years; a study based on wise reading and observation as well as personal experience. Included in this bibliography because of the help it can give to theological students and pastors in all countries.

337. Morris, Colin M.
Out of Africa's Crucible; Sermons from Central Africa. London: Lutterworth Press, 1960. 128 p. (Preaching for Today) 7/6 Remarkable, radically Christian and down-to-earth sermons preached by the young minister of the Chingola Free Church in the Copper Belt, Central Africa. He grapples fearlessly with problems of race, color, and the future of African peoples.

338. Moule, C. F. D.
A Chosen Vessel; Studies in the Acts of the Apostles, Part 2. London: Lutterworth Press - United Society for Christian Literature, 1961. 79 p. (World Christian Books 37, 2nd series.) 2/6 A brief but living portrait of the Apostle and missionary Paul, resting upon the hidden foundation of the author's vast erudition as a New Testament scholar and Lady Margaret Professor of Divinity at Cambridge University, England.

339. The New English Bible; New Testament. N.Y.: Oxford University Press; Cambridge University Press, 1961. 446 p. $4.95 This new translation of the New Testament has already sold two million copies. It has been highly praised as a fresh rendering in readable, living English, and also criticized for a certain lack of faithfulness to the original Greek. Useful for students of the Bible in all countries, and especially good for people of other languages reading the Bible for the first time in English.

340. Wingren, Gustaf.
The Living Word; a Theological Study of Preaching and the Church. London: SCM Press, 1960. 223 p. 25/- A stimulating analysis of the nature, purpose and content of preaching in the church, by the Professor in Systematic Theology at the University of Lund.

XI. PUBLICATIONS OF THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY

January - June, 1961

Occasional Bulletin Published ten to twelve times a year at the subscription rate of $2.00 for the calendar year. No additional charge for postage, domestic or foreign.

Vol. XII

No. 1. Missions and the New Nationalism. By R. Pierce Beaver. Jan. 15, 1961. 16 pp. Biblio. pp. 15-16. $.25

No. 2. Indigenous Art and Bible-Illustration. By Arno Lehmann. Feb. 15, 1961. 16 pp. Illus. $.25

No. 3. The Forthcoming Role of the Non-Christian Religious Systems as Contributory to Christian Theology. By Herbert C. Jackson. Mar. 15, 1961. 13 pp. $.25

No. 4. Christian Approach to Non-Christian Faiths. By Daud Rahbar. A Selected Bibliography on the World's Living Religions. By Missionary Research Library staff. Apr. 25, 1961. 14 pp. $.25

No. 5. Periodicals for the Missionary and Ecumenical Library. By John T. Ma. June 6, 1961. 6 pp. $.25

Book Notes Vol. XXII, 1961 Issued with the Occasional Bulletin. Free to subscribers; five cents per copy otherwise.

| | |
|---|---|
| January-February | The Growing World Mission |
| March | Asia--History, People, Religion |
| April | Nations and Peoples |
| May | The Theology of the Christian Mission |
| June-July | The Muslim World |

Africa South of the Sahara: a Selected and Annotated Bibliography of Books in the Missionary Research Library on Africa and African Countries South of the Sahara. Compiled by Robert H. Lahman; edited by Frank W. Price. 1959. Second printing, with supplementary list for 1959-1961. March, 1961. $1.50

Current Periodicals in the Missionary Research Library; Alphabetical List and Indexes. Compiled by John T. Ma. Revised Edition, 1961. $1.00

Directory of Christian Colleges in Asia, Africa, the Middle East, the Pacific, Latin America and the Caribbean. Compiled by Clara E. Orr. Feb., 1961. $1.50

Protestant Theological Seminaries and Bible Schools in Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Latin America, the Caribbean and Pacific Areas. A Directory. Compiled by C. Stanley Smith and Herbert F. Thompson; edited by Frank W. Price. 1961. $2.00

Selected List of Current Books and Pamphlets, July 1-Dec. 31, 1960. $.50

A Study of United Missions and Interboard Committees. By Loren E. Noren. June, 1961. $1.50

Survey of Foreign Missionary Salaries and Allowances. Compiled by Frank W. Price. 1961. Out of print.

XI. PUBLICATIONS OF THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY

January - June, 1961

Occasional Bulletin Published ten to twelve times a year at the subscription rate of $2.00 for the calendar year. No additional charge for postage, domestic or foreign.

Vol. XII

No. 1. Missions and the New Nationalism. By R. Pierce Beaver. Jan. 15, 1961. 16 pp. Biblio. pp. 15-16. $.25

No. 2. Indigenous Art and Bible-Illustration. By Arno Lehmann. Feb. 15, 1961. 16 pp. Illus. $.25

No. 3. The Forthcoming Role of the Non-Christian Religious Systems as Contributory to Christian Theology. By Herbert C. Jackson. Mar. 15, 1961. 13 pp. $.25

No. 4. Christian Approach to Non-Christian Faiths. By Daud Rahbar. A Selected Bibliography on the World's Living Religions. By Miscellany Research Library staff. Apr. 25, 1961. 14 pp. $.25

No. 5. Periodicals for the Missionary and Ecumenical Library. By John T. Ma. June 6, 1961. 6 pp. $.25

Book Notes Issued with the Occasional Bulletin. Free to subscribers; Five Vol. XXII, 1961 cents per copy otherwise.

January-February The Growing World Mission
March Asia--History, People, Religion
April Nations and Peoples
May The Theology of the Christian Mission
June-July The Muslim World

Africa South of the Sahara: a Selected and Annotated Bibliography of Books in the Missionary Research Library on Africa and African Countries South of the Sahara. Compiled by Robert H. Lauman; edited by Frank W. Price. 1959. Second printing, with supplementary list for 1959-1961. March, 1961. $1.50

Current Periodicals in the Missionary Research Library; Alphabetical list and Index. Compiled by John T. Ma. Revised Edition, 1961. $1.00

Directory of Christian Colleges in Asia, Africa, the Middle East, the Pacific, Latin America and the Caribbean. Compiled by Clare E. Orr. Feb., 1961. $1.50

Protestant Theological Seminaries and Bible Schools in Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Latin America, the Caribbean and Pacific Areas. A Directory. Compiled by C. Stanley Smith and Herbert P. Thompson; edited by Frank W. Price. 1961. $2.00

Selected List of Current Books and Pamphlets, July 1-Dec. 31, 1960. $.50

A Study of United Missions and Interboard Committees. By Loren E. Moren. June, 1961. $1.50

Survey of Foreign Missionary Salaries and Allowances. Compiled by Frank W. Price. 1961. Out of print.